COVERING THE CARDINALS

GAME DAY

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

Members of the news media who have not been issued season press credentials should request single-game credentials in writing on appropriate letterhead at least seven days in advance of the desired game. Mail or FAX requests to Paul Jensen, Director of Public Relations, P.O. Box 888, Phoenix, AZ 85001–0888. All credentials are issued to individuals. They are not transferable!

(Public Relations FAX: 602/379–1821)

CREDENTIAL DELIVERY

All credentials will be mailed if time allows. Otherwise, they may be be claimed at the Cardinals' public relations office at the team's training facility in south Tempe, Arizona during normal working hours or with proper identification at the "will call" window located in the south end of Sun Devil Stadium (Fifth Street) on game days. "Will call" opens three hours prior to kickoff.

MEDIA STADIUM ENTRANCE

The media entrance to Sun Devil Stadium is located on the southwest corner above the television pad parking for press already holding their credentials.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Sideline photography in the National Football League is limited to working media on specific assignment for a recognized sports publication or news service. No free-lance photographers will be accommodated. No one except network television and authorized game personnel will be admitted to the field without a camera. All field photographers must remain outside the bench areas and behind the broken lines that surround the entire perimeter of the playing field.

TELEPHONES

The Cardinals provide numerous telephone extensions from the Arizona State University telephone system throughout the press box at Sun Devil Stadium. Media outlets desiring dedicated lines should place orders by contacting U.S. West Communications, 602/630–6155, for lines, and AT&T, 1–800/555–8111, for instruments.

LOCKER ROOM ACCESS/POST-GAME INTERVEIWS

Members of the media wishing to conduct post-game interviews in the home and visiting locker rooms will be given access to players and coaches after the suggested "cooling-off" period following the conclusion of the game. Access is available only to individuals holding working credentials as well as a locker room pass which is distributed in the press box in the fourth quarter.

LOCKER ROOM LOCATIONS

Both locker rooms are located in a separate building outside the north end of Sun Devil Stadium. The Arizona dressing room is the first room on the right; the visitors' dressing room is at the end of the hallway. Arizona Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan conducts his post-game interview in a separate interview room directly across the hall from the Cardinals' locker room. The visiting head coach is available in proximity to his locker room.

PRESS BOX/LOCKER ROOM ROUTING

To reach the locker rooms from the press box, media must take the elevator to the main concourse level. There is no way to walk to ground level from the press box. Emerging from the elevator at ground level, proceed north (left) along the stadium concourse. Walk to field level through the stands. Members of the media will be permitted to view the conclusion of the game from inside the field fence at the northwest corner of the field. They will be allowed to proceed to the dressing rooms after the game participants have exited the playing field.

PARKING

There are 183 parking spaces in the Cardinals' press parking lot located just southwest of Sun Devil Stadium along the railroad tracks. Auxiliary parking for the media is located in the ASU parking garage just south of the stadium on Fifth Street.

FAX SERVICE

Media needing FAX service should contact a member of the Cardinal public relations staff prior to the game to fill out a simple form outlining their needs. A $10 fee is charged for long-distance FAXing.

DURING THE WEEK

GENERAL PROTOCOL

For the Cardinals' public relations office to better serve the media's needs, all members of the print and electronic press are asked to stop in the public relations office upon arrival at the training facility. All photographers must notify the public relations office of their presence prior to gaining access to the practice field.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS

During the regular-season work week, Cardinal players typically are available to the media in the locker room over their lunch period. There is no media access to players on Tuesdays, their off day. Additional interview access also is available outside the locker room after the daily workouts and during pre-arranged appointments made through the public relations department.

BUDDY RYAN INTERVIEWS

Cardinal Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan is available to the media as he leaves the practice field following each day's workout. On Tuesdays, the players' off day, Ryan conducts his interview session at approximately noon.

ASSISTANT COACHES/STAFF INTERVIEWS

Interviews with Cardinal assistant coaches and other members of the organization should be arranged through the public relations office.

OPPONENT COACH/PLAYER INTERVIEWS

The head coach and a player from the Cardinals' upcoming opponent are interviewed via conference call midweek, usually Wednesday. Contact the Cardinals' public relations office each week to verify times.

BILL BIDWILL

PRESIDENT

William V. Bidwill's association with the Cardinals, a relationship that began as a child ball boy on Chicago's south side and continues today as owner and president, is now in its fifth decade.

The 63-year-old Chicago native presides over the oldest continuous professional football franchise dating to 1898 and, along with the Chicago Bears, one of two charter members of the National Football League (1920).

The Cardinals have remained in the Bidwill family since William's father, Charles, a prominent Chicago sports figure and member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, purchased the team in 1932. Charles ran the club until his death in the Cardinals' NFL championship year of 1947. His wife, Violet, guided the franchise's fortunes for the next 15 years, followed jointly by their two sons, William and Charles, Jr. (Stormy). William became sole owner in 1972.

Named a Cardinal vice president during his undergraduate days at Georgetown University, William Bidwill returned to Chicago from the Navy in 1956 to begin assisting family interests that included football. When the Cardinals moved to St. Louis in 1960, Bidwill returned to the organization on a full-time basis.

Bidwill remains involved in all areas of the day-to-day Cardinal operation. The Cardinals' award-winning training complex in south Tempe, Arizona, which has housed the organization since September, 1990, is the latest major project he has overseen.

Also an active supporter of various civic and charitable organizations and endeavors, Bidwill directed the formation of Cardinal Charities, the team's organization dedicated to supporting worthy Arizona causes, shortly after the Cardinals arrived in the state.

Bidwill has served on many league committees in the past. He was a pivotal voice in Arizona's successful bid for Super Bowl XXVII in 1993, and later, a compromise that has reserved the league's showcase game for the Valley of the Sun in 1996 (Super Bowl XXX) instead.

Bidwill and his wife, Nancy, are the parents of five children: Sons William, Jr., Michael, Patrick, and Timothy, and daughter Nicole. The Bidwills have four grandchildren.

BUDDY RYAN

HEAD COACH AND GENERAL MANAGER

James David "Buddy" Ryan has been called many things during his always colorful, sometimes controversial coaching career. But when Cardinal President William V. Bidwill called him "head coach and general manager" to an introductory press conference on February 3, 1994, a new era in Cardinal football had begun.

It didn't take long for Ryan to assure his new owner he made the right decision.

"You've got a winner in town," said Ryan, the team's 32nd head coach. "I'm looking forward to winning the Super Bowl, and I hope it doesn't take the length of the contract to do that."

Known as one of football's most innovative and effective defensive coaches, Ryan has enjoyed successes at all his NFL coaching stops. He served on the staffs of three Super Bowl teams — 1968 Jets, 1976 Vikings, and 1985 Bears — and is the mastermind of the "46" defense, a scheme that involves multiple variations of alignments and coverages.

PEDIGREE

Ryan was born February 17, 1934 in Frederick, Oklahoma, located about 20 miles from the Texas border.

Raised during the Great Depression, Ryan, his father, mother, three brothers and two sisters managed without electricity until after the conclusion of World War II, and did without indoor plumbing until Buddy graduated from high school. It was those hardships Ryan endured as a youngster that made him tough like his father, D.A. "Red" Ryan, a house painter and bull rider on a small rodeo circuit.

"He was a no-nonsense guy," Ryan says. "There was no question he was the boss. You didn't debate anything with my dad. It was 'yes sir, no sir.'"

While a two-sport star in football and baseball in high school, Ryan worked in grain elevators, oil fields, dug ditches, and paved roads to make ends meet. No job was too big for Ryan, and no job was too small. Whenever people were laid off, it was never Ryan. He had a job and he took care of it.

Ryan lied about his age at 17 to join the National Guard. When his unit was activated, his football scholarship to the University of Arkansas never was realized. He later served in the U.S. Army in Korea.

Ryan was a leader of Company F of the 179th Infantry, 45th Division in Korea. Shortly after enlisting, Ryan became a squad leader, a platoon sergeant, a sergeant first class, and a master sergeant by age 18. His military roots remain evident today, demanding his players stand at attention, in a straight line, with their helmets under their left arm during the playing of the national anthem.

But football couldn't escape Ryan while serving his country. He played fullback and linebacker on the 45th Infantry Division championship team in Japan. Unscored upon, the team was sent to Korea before it could play in the Rice Bowl against the U.S. Air Force champs. After returning home, Ryan opted to play his college football at Oklahoma State University. He would become a four-year letterman for the Cowboys from 1952–55 as a guard and linebacker. Ryan earned a bachelor's degree in education in 1957 and a master's degree in education administration from Middle Tennessee State in 1966.

RISING THROUGH THE RANKS

Through various college and professional assistant jobs and as head coach in Philadelphia, one consistent thread is the loyalty Ryan evokes from his players.

"You can talk to any player who played for him — you either love Buddy or you hate him," says Green Bay defensive end Reggie White, who played for Ryan in Philadelphia. "Most of the players I know who played for him in Philly or in Houston loved him.

"When he gets his core guys together, that's who he will go to war with, and he'll fight for them. He cares about his players and his players care about him."

Ryan began his coaching career at Gainesville (Texas) High as athletic director and head coach from 1957–59 and as an assistant at Marshall (Texas) High School in 1960.

He joined the college coaching ranks as defensive coordinator at the University of Buffalo from 1961–65. He served in a similar role the next two years at Vanderbilt (1966) and the University of Pacific (1967).

Ryan moved into the professional coaching ranks in 1968, joining the defensive staff of the New York Jets under Pro Football Hall of Fame Head Coach Weeb Ewbank, whom Ryan credits with influencing his defensive philosophy. Ryan spent eight seasons with New York, including 1968 when the Jets upset the heavily favored Baltimore Colts in Super Bowl III.

He later served from 1976–77 as the defensive line coach for Bud Grant's Minnesota Vikings as the "Purple People Eaters" of Carl Eller, Alan Page, and Jim Marshall helped the Vikings reach Super Bowl XI.

Ryan spent eight seasons as the Chicago Bears' defensive coordinator (1978–85). During that span, his unit ranked among the NFL's top 10 on six occasions. He helped mold such greats as Mike Singletary, Wilber Marshall, Dan Hampton, Steve McMichael and Gary Fencik into one of the great defenses in NFL history. In 1984, the Bears set an NFL record with 72 quarterback sacks while also leading the league in fewest yards allowed (241.3 per game) and fewest rushing yards permitted (86.1). In Chicago's Super Bowl season of 1985, Ryan's unit led the league in nine defensive categories, including fewest points allowed (258.4), fewest rushing yards allowed (82.4), fewest rushing touchdowns permitted (6), most interceptions (34), most turnovers (54), fewest first downs allowed (14.8), lowest opponents passing percentage (47.7) and lowest opponent time of possession (25:27).

In Chicago's Super Bowl XX victory over New England, Ryan's charges held the Patriots to a Super Bowl record fewest first downs (7) and fewest rushing first downs (1) while allowing just 123 total yards. En route to the Super Bowl title, Chicago posted playoff shutouts of the L.A. Rams and N.Y. Giants, an unprecedented accomplishment in NFL post-season annals.

Ryan posted a 43–35–1 composite record as head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles from 1986–90. As head coach at Philadelphia, he led the Eagles to the playoffs in each of his last three years with the club, ending a streak of seven seasons without a playoff berth. From 1988–90, Philadelphia posted records of 10–6, 11–5, and 10–6, highlighted by the NFC East title in 1988, the Eagles' first divisional crown since 1980.

After a two-year absence from coaching,

Ryan returned to the NFL in 1993 as defensive coordinator for the Houston Oilers, which set a club record with 52 quarterback sacks and ranked first in the league in both rushing defense (79.6 yards per game) and interceptions (26).

THE "46"

Since Ryan developed the innovative "46" defense, football minds have duplicated it. NFL defenses, college programs, and high schools have copied it.

Ryan first developed the concept as an assistant coach with the New York Jets, where Ewbank was obsessed with keeping gimpy-kneed quarterback Joe Namath protected at all times.

It wasn't until Ryan became the Bears' defensive coordinator in 1978 that the "46" became noticed. Under his innovations, the Bears' dominant defense became the "Monsters of the Midway" again and won a Super Bowl in 1985.

"The whole thing was born out of necessity, really," Ryan says. "We didn't have anybody who could rush the quarterback in Chicago. We didn't have anybody who could even get close to him. We were playing Detroit, and I said, 'Well, we've gotta do something.

"We went with five down linemen ... put a defensive end outside, and then we got linebackers who were good enough to stay in there and do certain things.

"We just kind of added to it."

Ryan's defenses at Philadelphia and Houston were just as dangerous and highly ranked, leading the league in everything from turnovers to fewest yards allowed.

Just what is the "46" defense?

"It's a pain in the butt, what do you think? Next question," said former Washington Redskins quarterback Joe Theismann when asked to describe it.

The principle behind the "46" is to create turnovers and chaos with a seven-man front constantly applying pressure on the quarterback, which also stuffs the running game because of the congestion on the line of scrimmage. Quite simply, the "46" is controlled violence directed at the quarterback and anyone in his path.

"You've got to be an intelligent guy to play this defense," said former Bears safety Doug Plank, who wore No. 46 and is the namesake of the defense. "If you're not, you'll be gone. But if you can get it down, you'll thrive in this kind of system. "It's a blast to play."

PERSONAL

An avid horse enthusiast, Ryan's horse farm in Lawrenceburg, Kentucky, just west of Lexington, is his base to raise, train, and race over 20 thoroughbred horses. He also has 100 head of cattle. Ryan hopes to one day win a Super Bowl and a Kentucky Derby.

Buddy and his wife, Joan, live in Phoenix. He has three sons—twins Rex and Rob, and Jim.

JOE RHEIN

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Cardinal Executive Vice President Joe Rhein has proven Thomas Wolfe wrong. You can go home again. And he has.

The team's publicity director in St. Louis from 1972–76 and its assistant publicist in 1971, Rhein returned to the Cardinals in August, 1989 to oversee various team administrative areas after a 12-year hiatus at the National Football League office in New York City.

Rhein played an instrumental role in the NFL's original award of Super Bowl XXVII to Arizona in 1990 as a member of the Board of Directors of the Phoenix '93 Committee and in the later compromise that eventually secured Super Bowl XXX for Arizona in 1996. He continues to serve on the Super Bowl XXX Host Committee.

He has been a guiding voice in the formation and growth of Cardinal Charities which has funded nearly $350,000 in grants to worthy Arizona causes since 1990, and in many of the Cardinals' special events and projects, including the annual Cardinal Charities Dinner, the Cardinal Charities Celebrity Golf Classic, and the Cardinals' preseason game concerts.

Elected to the Board of Directors of the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce in 1991, Rhein also is a member of the "Phoenix Pride" commission formed in 1990 to promote the Valley of the Sun and Arizona, and the Governor's Council on Health, Physical Fitness, and Sports.

The 47-year-old Rhein joined the NFL in 1977 as assistant to the president of the National Football Conference, a position he held until serving as the league's director of administration from 1983–89. In the latter capacity, Rhein coordinated the activities of the league office departments and was involved in the supervision of the NFL's international efforts, particularly the American Bowl series. He supervised the first three American Bowls in London (1986–88) and the first American Bowl in Tokyo (1989).

Additionally, Rhein served as secretary of the NFL Charities foundation and was involved in preparation of the league playing schedule and coordination of the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl Game from 1977–89.

Rhein began his career as assistant sports information director at Oklahoma State University from 1969–71 following his 1969 graduation from the University of Missouri in journalism.

A native of Belleville, Illinois, Rhein and his wife, Barbara, reside in Scottsdale, Arizona with daughters Rachel and Jessica.

LARRY WILSON

VICE PRESIDENT

Larry Wilson, regarded as one of the greatest defensive backs in NFL history, has enjoyed an NFL career that now spans 35 years.

A Hall of Fame defensive back for the Cardinals during their first 13 seasons in St. Louis and one of only four players in franchise history to have his jersey retired, the 56-year-old Wilson's NFL career began with 13 seasons (1960–72) as a player and has continued with a variety of administrative posts.

Wilson started his climb up the team's organizational ladder as director of professional scouting (1973–76) and director of professional personnel (1977–88) for the next 16 years. He also guided the team as interim head coach for the final three games of the 1979 season, earning credit for victories over the San Francisco 49ers and New York Giants.

During the Cardinals' inaugural season in Phoenix in 1988, Wilson was appointed vice president and general manager to guide the franchise's football fortunes as it entered a new era in Arizona, a position he held through the 1993 season. During that span, Wilson hired a new head coach (Joe Bugel) and director of college scouting (Bob Ackles), played an active role in planning the Cardinals' state-of-the-art training complex, took a prominent role in the team's draft decision making, and implemented the team's aggressive approach to free agency.

As a player, Wilson reached legendary status as a hard-hitting six-time all-pro and eight-time Pro Bowl free safety, appearing in 169 NFL games—all as a Cardinal—from 1960–72. His name is referenced throughout the Cardinal record book. He still owns club records for career interceptions (52), career interception yardage (800), career interception returns for touchdowns (5), and single-game interception return yardage (115). His 96-yard interception return for a touchdown against Cleveland on Dec. 19, 1965 remains the longest in Cardinal history and his 91-yard interception for a touchdown the following year against Philadelphia still ranks third on the same list. He led the Cardinals in interceptions six times and intercepted three passes in a single game twice.

In 1966, he enjoyed one of his finest seasons with an NFL-leading 10 interceptions, including three in one game against the Chicago Bears on Oct. 31, while tying a league record by intercepting a pass in seven consecutive games.

Wilson also holds the Cardinal record for longest fumble return, an 88-yard jaunt for a touchdown at Green Bay on Dec. 21, 1969. It was one of two career fumbles he returned for touchdowns and one of 12 career fumbles he recovered, the latter ranking fifth in that category in Card annals.

Wilson was accorded professional football's ultimate honor in January of 1978 when he was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Born in Rigby, Idaho, Wilson was drafted as a running back out of the University of Utah in the seventh round in 1960. After converting to the defensive backfield due to injuries, Wilson and coach Chuck Drulis innovated one of today's most potent and exciting aspects of defensive football—the safety blitz.

Wilson and his wife, Nancy, reside in Scottsdale, Arizona.

BOB ACKLES

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

One of new Cardinal Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan's first acts was to name Bob Ackles his assistant general manager.

Ackles assists Ryan in the administrative aspects of his new dual position with particular responsibility for player contract negotiations.

Named the club's director of college scouting on July 8, 1992, Ackles directed his attention to reorganization of the Cardinals' college scouting efforts. His first NFL Draft of 1993 drew rave reviews. Phoenix displayed daring in trading up twice in the first round in order to insure landing Georgia running back Garrison Hearst and South Carolina offensive tackle Ernest Dye.

Ackles, 56, joined the Dallas Cowboys as the club's first director of pro personnel in 1986 and was promoted to the position of director of player personnel in 1989 where he helped lay the foundation for the Cowboys' dramatic resurgence over the past three years. Following seasons of 3–13 in 1988 and 1–15 in '89, Ackles was instrumental in the club's active efforts to acquire talent through several trades, waiver acquisitions, and Plan B free agency that provided an infusion of top draft picks and players. The efforts were rewarded by the Cowboys' playoff appearance following an 11–5 regular season in 1991 and culminated with the first of two consecutive Super Bowl championships the next season.

Prior to his tenure in Dallas, Ackles spent 11 years as general manager of the Canadian Football League's (CFL) British Columbia Lions where he became recognized as one of the CFL's top administrators. Under his leadership, the Lions became one of the CFL's winningest teams, moved into a new stadium, and built a training facility. In 1985, the Lions won the Grey Cup, emblematic of the CFL championship.

Ackles joined the Lions in 1954, their first year of operation, as a 16-year-old water boy. Over the next 32 years, Ackles performed virtually every administrative duty in the organization. After working his way through Vancouver College as the Lions' equipment manager, he became assistant general manager before being elevated to general manager in 1975.

A native Canadian, Ackles was born in Sarnia, Ontario near the United States border. Raised in Toronto and Vancouver, British Columbia, he played organized hockey (goalie) for 12 years.

He and his wife, Kay, who reside in Phoenix, have two sons—Steve (32) and Scott (29)—and three grandchildren.

DAVE ATKINS

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/RUNNING BACKS

Dave Atkins embarks upon his first season in Arizona as offensive coordinator and running backs coach after eight years of NFL coaching experience, including last season with New England.

Atkins, 45, is reunited with Head Coach Buddy Ryan, whom he coached under from 1986–90 with the Philadelphia Eagles.

Atkins inherits an offense that, with the help from key acquisitions via free agency and the draft, improved from rankings of 24th in scoring and 26th in rushing in 1992 to a fourth-place rating in both scoring and rushing in the NFC last season. Overall, the Cardinals were ranked third in total offense.

Atkins hopes to improve on those numbers. As running backs coach, he's looking to solidify a formidable rushing attack that features 1993 rookies Ron Moore and Garrison Hearst, and versatile Larry Centers. Moore, who rushed for more than 1,000 yards in his rookie season, and Hearst, who appeared in only six games in 1993 before suffering a season-ending knee injury, could establish themselves as one of the premier young backfields in the NFL.

Last season in his only campaign with New England, Atkins tutored Patriots offensive backs, honing the skills of former Arizona State University standout Leonard Russell, who finished second in the AFC in rushing (1,088 yards) and third in the conference in total yards from scrimmage (1,333).

During his seven seasons (1986–92) with Philadelphia, Atkins handled three areas of coaching—running backs, special teams, and tight ends. Prior to his arrival, the Eagles' rushing attack ranked 23rd in the league. In his first season (1986), he helped resurrect the ground attack to an eighth-place ranking with 2,002 yards, the club's highest total since 1981. By 1990, the Eagles were averaging 159.8 yards rushing per game, best in the NFL.

Atkins entered coaching as an assistant at Burges High School in El Paso, Texas (1977–78), then joined the collegiate ranks in 1979 at his alma mater, Texas-El Paso, where he coached the running backs and handled the kicking game for two years. In 1981, he began a five-year stint as an assistant at San Diego State prior to joining the Eagles.

Born in Victoria, Texas, Atkins attended Victoria High School and played collegiately (running back and kick returner) at Texas-El Paso. Selected in the eighth round of the 1973 NFL Draft by San Francisco, Atkins played one season for the 49ers, signed with the Honolulu Hawaiians of the World Football League, then finished his playing career with the San Diego Chargers in 1975.

Born May 18, 1949, Atkins and his wife, Cynthia, have two children—Dave, Jr. (17) and Jasmine (3).

RONNIE JONES

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Former Arizona State University assistant Ronnie Jones, the Sun Devils' strength and conditioning coach from 1985–86, returns to the Valley with new Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan as defensive coordinator after seven years in the professional arena.

Jones inherits a defense that ranked 21st in the NFL last season. Most off-season personnel moves focused on defensive improvement, acquiring free agent defensive standouts Seth Joyner and Clyde Simmons, who played for the Philadelphia Eagles under Ryan from 1986–90, UCLA outside linebacker Jamir Miller with the 10th overall selection in the NFL Draft, and former Buffalo Bill cornerback James Williams.

Jones will instruct Ryan's famous "46" defense and demand a tougher attitude from his players on the defensive side of the ball.

Following one-year stints as linebackers coach with the L.A. Rams under John Robinson (1991) and the L.A. Raiders for Art Shell (1992), Jones was named to a similar position with the Houston Oilers in 1993 after Ryan was tabbed the Oilers' defensive coordinator. Last year's Houston defense set a club record with 52 quarterback sacks, ranked first in the league in rushing defense (79.6 yards per game) and interceptions (26), and helped propel the Oilers into the playoffs with an 11-game winning streak to finish the season and win the AFC Central Division title.

After leaving Arizona State, Jones worked under Ryan as strength and conditioning coach for the Eagles in 1987. He switched to linebackers coach in 1988. While in Philadelphia, Jones tutored a stable of standout linebackers that included Joyner and Byron Evans, the latter a collegiate star at the University of Arizona.

Jones was an assistant on John Cooper's staff at ASU for two seasons, the second which produced a Rose Bowl victory over Michigan. Prior to his stint in Tempe, Jones served as offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at Tulsa in 1984 after five seasons (1979–83) at Northeastern (Okla.) State, where he worked with the defensive line and linebackers in addition to handling duties as the school's head track coach and strength and conditioning coach for all sports.

Born October 17, 1955 in Dumas, Texas, Jones attended Sunray (Tex.) High School and was a small college all-America running back at Northwestern (Okla.) State. He had tryouts with the Denver Broncos and Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Canadian Football League.

He owns a bachelor's degree from Northeastern State and a master's degree in health and physical education from Northwestern State.

Jones and his wife, Karla, live in Phoenix.

TED COTTRELL

LINEBACKERS

Ted Cottrell, who coached the Cardinals' defensive line the past four seasons, inherits the Arizona linebackers in 1994.

The change appears fortuitous for Cottrell, who will be tutoring the talented likes of veterans Eric Hill and Seth Joyner, and rookie Jamir Miller, the Cards' 1994 first-round draft choice.

Prior to joining the Cardinals in 1990, Cottrell helped mold Buffalo's defensive line into one of the NFL's strongest units as the Bills' defensive line coach for four seasons (1986–89). Bills' nose tackle Fred Smerlas (1988) and defensive end Bruce Smith (1987–89) earned trips to the Pro Bowl and the '88 Bill defense ranked first in the AFC during Cottrell's Buffalo tenure.

Over the last three seasons in Phoenix, Cottrell's tutelage assisted 1991 first-round draft pick Eric Swann develop into one of the top defensive linemen in the NFL.

Cottrell received his first taste of professional coaching as linebacker coach for Head Coach Marv Levy in Kansas City (1981–82), followed by two seasons (1984–85) as defensive line coach for the USFL New Jersey Generals. He rejoined Levy with the Bills in 1986.

A native of Chester, Pa., Cottrell, 46, entered the coaching ranks at Rutgers from 1973–80 as defensive line coach (1973–79) and defensive coordinator (1980). In 1976, Rutgers led the nation in total defense, rushing defense, and scoring defense, and finished unbeaten with a no. 17 national ranking. Cottrell returned to Rutgers as defensive coordinator for the 1983 season following his stay in Kansas City.

Chosen in the seventh round of the 1969 NFL Draft by Atlanta, Cottrell played two seasons as a linebacker with the Falcons (1970–71) and completed his playing career in the CFL with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers (1972).

Cottrell, who also attended Rutgers, graduated from Delaware Valley College in Doylestown, Penn. He and his wife, Barbara, have one son, Theodore (12).

GEORGE MARTINEZ

QUALITY CONTROL

Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan and George Martinez first crossed paths during the Philadelphia Eagles' mini-camp and training camp workouts prior to the 1989 and 1990 seasons while Ryan was head coach in the City of Brotherly Love and Martinez was a visiting coach.

Five years later, Ryan named Martinez, a veteran of 20 years coaching various levels of football, to his first Arizona staff as quality control coach. In addition to his duties of maintaining the Cardinals' game-tendency scouting data (opponent and self-scouting information) and help interpret reports to be utilized in game strategy planning, Martinez will assist Al Roberts on special teams and Ted Plumb with wide receivers and tight ends.

Martinez joins the Cardinals after three years (1989–91) as head coach and offensive coordinator at New Mexico Highlands University, one season (1988) as head coach and offensive coordinator at Panhandle (Okla.) State, and 1993 as an assistant coach for New Mexico state champion Santa Rosa High School. At New Mexico Highlands, Rex Ryan, the Cardinals' defensive line coach, served as defensive coordinator under Martinez.

Martinez began his coaching career in Oklahoma and California at the high school level for eight years from 1973–80, then enjoyed seven successful seasons as an assistant at East Central University (ECU) in Oklahoma, handling linebackers (1981–82, 85–87) and serving as passing-game coordinator (1983–84). The 1984 team appeared in the national playoffs for the first time in school history. ECU won the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference title four times (1984–87) during his tenure in Ada, Okla.

In Martinez' 20 years of coaching, he has won four conference championships on the college level and four league titles and a state championship on the high school level.

An all-state quarterback and punter at Kofa High School in Yuma, Arizona, Martinez attended the University of Arizona after being recruited by former Cardinals assistant coach Pete Rodriguez. Martinez transferred to Northwestern Oklahoma State, where he was a three-year starter and all-conference quarterback.

Martinez received tryouts with the Washington Redskins and Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League and played briefly in the Mid-America Professional Football League for the Tulsa Knights (1974–75).

Born August 5, 1951 in Fort Bragg, North Carolina, his father, George, Sr., was a member of the 82nd Airborne Division.

Martinez and his wife, Benita, have two children—daughter Tara (16) and Scott (12).

GUY MORRISS

OFFENSIVE LINE ASSISTANT

Armed with 15 years experience as an offensive lineman and two more as an assistant coach in the National Football League, Guy Morriss joins the Arizona staff to assist Dan Neal with the offensive line.

Morriss started 173 of the 217 games of his professional playing career with Philadelphia (1973–83) and New England (1984–87), then coached the Patriots' offensive linemen under Head Coach Raymond Berry from 1988–89 after he retired as a player.

Morriss brings extensive experience as a player to instruct the Cardinals' young offensive line.

Selected by Philadelphia in the second round of the 1973 NFL Draft, Morriss started 89 consecutive games for the Eagles between 1976 and 1983 and still ranks fourth in the Eagle record book with 157 games played.

Morriss, who hails from Colorado City, Texas, was an all-NFC selection in 1981 for Philadelphia and played on six playoff teams overall—four with the Eagles (1978–81) and two with the Patriots (1985–86). He also played on two Super Bowl teams—1980 with the Eagles (Super Bowl XV) and in 1985 with the Patriots (Super Bowl XX).

An all-star tight end at Sam Houston High School in Arlington, Texas, Morriss was a three-year letterman at Texas Christian University, earning all-Southwest Conference honors at guard.

Born on May 13, 1951, Morriss and his wife, Jackie have five daughters—Colleen (25), Melanie (21), Kerry (19), Savannah Rae (6), and Austin Leigh (4).

DAN NEAL

OFFENSIVE LINE

Dan Neal, an 11-year veteran center with the Baltimore Colts and Chicago Bears, will tutor the Cards' offensive line as he enters his seventh year coaching in the National Football League.

He rejoins Arizona Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan, whom Neal coached under from 1986–90 with the Philadelphia Eagles. He remained to spend the 1991 season on the first Eagle coaching staff of Ryan's successor, current Philadelphia Head Coach Rich Kotite.

Neal, 45, inherits a young and talented offensive line that last season led running back Ron Moore to the Cardinals' first 1,000-yard rushing season since Stump Mitchell in 1985 and the first Cardinal rookie to accomplish the feat since Ottis Anderson in 1979. The line also deserves credit for the overall improved rushing attack and pass protection that allowed only 33 quarterback sacks, fewest by Cardinal opponents since 1978 (22).

Neal entered the coaching ranks in 1986 as the Eagles' special teams coach during Ryan's first season in Philadelphia. After expanding his duties to assist offensive line coach Bill Walsh in 1987, Neal shared the position with Walsh from 1988–91 during which time the Eagles posted records of 10–6, 10–6, 11–5 and 10–6 and made three post-season appearances.

An 11th-round pick by the Baltimore Colts in the 1973 NFL Draft, Neal spent two seasons with the Colts before signing as a free agent with the Chicago Bears in 1975. With the Colts, Neal was coached by current Giants' Vice President and General Manager George Young. With the Bears, Neal was tutored by respected long-time NFL assistant Dick Stanfel.

Neal was part of the offensive line that created holes for NFL all-time leading rusher Walter Payton. Neal played 115 consecutive games for Chicago, including 81 straight starting roles, before suffering a career-ending back injury in 1983.

Neal has contributed to three team rushing titles—twice as a player (1977, '83 with the Bears) and once as a coach (1990 with Philadelphia).

Born August 30, 1949 in Corbin, Kentucky, Neal attended Atherton High School in Louisville before enrolling at the University of Kentucky, where he was the Wildcats' offensive captain in 1971 and '72.

Neal and his wife, Barbara, have two daughters—Kelly (13) and Tiffany (10).

TED PLUMB

RECEIVERS/TIGHT ENDS

Ted Plumb, a 20-year NFL coaching veteran, reunites with new Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan for the third time in their NFL coaching careers.

Plumb and Ryan served together as assistants on the staff of Chicago Bear Head Coach Mike Ditka. Plumb spent six seasons (1980–85) in Chicago as receivers coach, including the 1985 Super Bowl championship season.

Plumb followed Ryan to Philadelphia when the latter was named the Eagles' head coach in 1986, serving as assistant head coach-offense (1986–89) during the Eagles' rise to the playoffs and the development of Pro Bowl quarterback Randall Cunningham.

In 1994, his fifth season on the Cardinals' staff, Plumb will coach the receivers and tight ends. A year ago he tutored the Card tight ends and H-backs after spending three seasons (1990–92) as the team's receivers coach.

Plumb also boasts the unique distinction of having worked with or coached every member of Ryan's first Cardinal staff.

Prior to moving to coach tight ends, Plumb's receivers posted noteworthy numbers in each of the previous three seasons.

In 1992, wide receivers Ricky Proehl (60) and Randal Hill (58) were joined by running back Larry Centers (50) to become the first Cardinal trio to each grab 50 or more passes in the same season since 1984 (Roy Green-78, Ottis Anderson-70, and Pat Tilley-52).

Under Plumb's watchful eye, Proehl caught 171 passes in his first three years to lead all members of the 1990 NFL Draft class that included Philadelphia's Fred Barnett (165) and New York Jet Rob Moore (164).

In 1991, Plumb's triumvirate of Ernie Jones (61), Proehl (55), and Hill (43) combined for 159 receptions, the third highest total by the Cards' top three wide receivers in franchise history.

In 1990, Proehl, Jones, and Green became only the third trio of Cardinal receivers to each catch over 40 passes in the same season. Proehl, a consensus all-rookie selection, blossomed quickly under Plumb's watchful eye to become the first rookie to lead the team in receiving in 40 years (Bob Shaw, 1950).

Plumb, 54, broke into the professional ranks as offensive backfield coach for the New York Giants in 1974 before moving to Atlanta as quarterbacks and receivers coach for the Falcons from 1977–79.

A native of Reno, Nevada, Plumb was raised in northern California and played for the Buffalo Bills in 1962 following a successful collegiate career at Baylor as a wide receiver. He began his coaching career in the Texas prep ranks at Raymond High School (1963–64) and Lubbock High School (1965) before moving to Cerritos (Calif.) Junior College from 1966–67.

Three seasons (1968–70) at Texas Christian as receivers/tight ends coach, one (1971) at Tulsa and two (1972–73) at Kansas in the same role followed before his initial NFL job with the Giants in 1974.

Plumb and his wife, Marianna, have three children—sons Loyal (32) and John (31), and daughter Molly (25).

AL ROBERTS

SPECIAL TEAMS

Tabbed by Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan to coach the Cardinals' special teams, the same duties he held from 1988–90 as a member of Ryan's Philadelphia Eagles' staff, Al Roberts comes to Arizona after three seasons in a similar role with the N.Y. Jets.

During his stay in New York, the Jets' special teams led the league in kickoff return coverage (15.4 yards) and ranked second in punt returns (5.7 yards) in 1991, posted kickoff and punt return coverage yields of 16.7 yards and 7.3 yards, respectively, to rank among the top five in 1992, and last year finished fourth in the league with a six-yard yield on punt returns.

Roberts, 50, began his coaching career at Mercer Island (Wash.) High School from 1969–72, then became a head coach at Garfield High School in Seattle from 1973–76, where he led the school to the 1976 city championship.

He joined the college ranks as running backs coach at the University of Washington from 1977–82 when the Huskies played in five bowl games, including three Rose Bowls.

The professional circuit beckoned. Roberts joined the L.A. Express of the United States Football League from 1984–85 as running backs coach under Head Coach Hugh Campbell. He followed Campbell to the Houston Oilers in the same capacity for the 1984 and '85 seasons. After one-year stints on the college staffs at Purdue (1986) and Wyoming (1987) as running backs and special teams coach, he joined Ryan with the Eagles in 1988.

Born January 6, 1944 in Merced, Calif., Roberts attended Merced High School and played collegiately at the University of Washington (1964–65) and the University of Puget Sound (1967–68), after a short time at Olympic Community College in Washington.

Roberts and his wife, Arvella, have two sons—Kali (24) and Kyle (19).

REX RYAN

DEFENSIVE LINE

Along with his twin brother Rob, Rex Ryan takes his first step into the professional coaching ranks this year as the defensive line coach under his father, Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan.

With seven years of coaching at the Division I level, Ryan has utilized the "46" defense with great success as defensive coordinator at Morehead State University in Kentucky. Over the past four seasons, his units ranked eighth and 19th nationally in total defense in 1990 and '92, respectively, set an Ohio Valley Conference (OVC) record with 53 quarterback sacks in 1990, established a school record with 17 interceptions in 1991, and led the nation in sacks two of the past four years.

In 1989, Ryan was assistant head coach and defensive coordinator at New Mexico Highlands under Cardinals' quality control coach George Martinez, where Ryan coached special teams and assisted in the overall defensive scheme. That year, the defense created havoc with a school record 34 forced turnovers, 53 sacks, and 13 blocked kicks (seven punts, six kicks) in 10 games.

Ryan attended Stevenson High School in Prairie View, Illinois and played collegiately at Southwestern Oklahoma State. He joined the staff at Eastern Kentucky from 1987–89 as defensive ends coach where he tutored three all-Americas—Aaron Jones (first round, Pittsburgh Steelers, 1988), Jessie Small (second round, Philadelphia Eagles, 1989), and David Wilkens (free agent, San Francisco, 1992)—en route to consecutive conference titles.

Born December 13, 1962 in Ardmore, Oklahoma, Ryan owns a bachelor's degree in physical education from Southwestern Oklahoma and a master's degree in the same discipline from Eastern Kentucky. He and his wife, Michelle, have two sons, Rex Payton (June 23, 1992), whose middle name honors Chicago Bear great Walter Payton, and Daniel Seth (March 26, 1994).

ROB RYAN

DEFENSIVE BACKS

Along with twin brother Rex, Rob Ryan takes his first step into the pro coaching ranks on his father's staff.

Assigned to coach the defensive backfield, Ryan is no stranger to the complicated "46" defensive scheme. He has been weaned on the philosophy during his formative years while his father coached for the N.Y. Jets, Minnesota Vikings, Chicago Bears, Philadelphia Eagles, and Houston Oilers. The youngest Ryan is well versed in the extensive list of coverages his defensive backs will be asked to play.

Ryan comes to Arizona after five seasons at tradition-laden Tennessee State, where he coached the running backs (1989–91), linebackers (1992), and defensive line (1993). Tennessee State boasts the second-winningest I-AA program with an all-time record of 423–151–30 (.725 winning percentage), trailing only Yale. The school has produced such NFL stars as defensive ends Ed "Too Tall" Jones (Dallas) and Claude Humphrey (Atlanta, Philadelphia), quarterback Joe Gilliam (Pittsburgh), fullback Larry Kinnebrew (Cincinnati, Buffalo), cornerback Jim Marsalis (Kansas City, New Orleans), and current San Francisco 49er defensive end Richard Dent. Last year, seven players from TSU dotted NFL rosters.

Ryan's introduction to coaching came as a graduate assistant at Western Kentucky in 1987 and Ohio State in 1988 where he assisted with the outside linebackers. After his five seasons at TSU, he was named defensive coordinator of the Washington Marauders of the Professional Spring Football League in 1992, but saw his first professional opportunity dissolve when the league disbanded before its first season.

He attended Stevenson High School in Prairie View, Illinois and played three seasons as a defensive end and outside linebacker at Southwest Oklahoma State.

Born December 13, 1962 in Ardmore, Oklahoma, Ryan owns a degree in physical education from Southwestern Oklahoma State. He has a son, Tyler (3).

BOB ROGUCKI

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Bob Rogucki (row-GUS-key), strength and conditioning coach at West Point from 1983–89, begins his fifth year in the same capacity for the Cardinals.

Since joining the Cardinals, Rogucki has developed the weight room at the team's new training facility that includes a wide range of equipment from bars and dumbbells to machines while implementing a strength and conditioning program that trains the total body. Rogucki's philosophy is to gear a training regimen specific to the game of football, involving training in a high-intensity mode that builds both muscular strength and endurance. The philosophy involves five body parts primary to the sport—neck, hips, legs, midsection, and torso—and focuses on developing the overall fitness of the athlete, including flexibility, cardio-respiratory fitness, muscular strength and endurance, recovery, and nutrition.

Rogucki, 41, also worked as an assistant for the Washington Redskins during their summer training camps at Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pennsylvania for seven years.

Rogucki joined the staff at West Point after similar posts at Weber State (1982) and as an assistant at Penn State (1981).

A native of Rosemont, West Virginia, he was an offensive lineman and linebacker as a high school and college athlete. He graduated from Glenville State College in his home state in 1975 before coaching football, basketball, and baseball on the high school level prior to accepting his first college coaching position at Penn State in 1981.

The author of several articles on strength and conditioning and a frequent speaker at clinics and public engagements, Rogucki and his wife, Mary, have two children—son Charlie (14) and daughter Katie (10).

Prior to joining the Cardinals in 1971, Bolinger coached on the collegiate level for 11 years and spent two seasons as offensive line coach with the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League.

He accepted the defensive coordinator's post at Tulsa the following season, handling that role for two years.

In 1963, he moved to New Mexico as offensive and defensive coordinator. After five years with the Lobos, Bolinger spent one season (1968) as offensive coordinator at Utah State before joining the CFL.

As a player at Oklahoma, Bolinger earned consensus all-America recognition in 1955 and twice was named an all-Big Eight Conference guard.

•Nickname "Thrill" has replaced his missing middle name. Hill's parents, Helen and Ransom Hill, didn't give son Randal a middle name. "Most people don't use both. So we didn't give Randal one. We made it easy on him," explains Helen, a third-grade teacher.

•Proved his tag as one of the NFL's fastest men at the "DHL/NFL's Fastest Man" competition in 1992 and '93. Hill won his first heat and was eliminated in the semifinal round in 1993. He placed second in 1992 with a 6.20 clocking in the 60-yard dash, losing to Alexander Wright (6.14) in the finals. # 1993 REVIEW

The 1993 Phoenix Cardinals saved their best for last! An agonizing 2–6 first half, best remembered for five losses of seven points or less, preceded a heartening finish—despite three more losses of a touchdown or less—that featured four victories in the final five outings, including the last three.

In the end, the Cardinals, despite the eight near-misses, bettered their record of a year earlier by three games and climbed out of the National Football Conference (NFC) East Division basement for the first time since 1989. They also posted their first three-victory December since 1983.

IMPROVEMENT

What the 1993 Cardinals were about was improvement. The record was better. The defense was better. The offense was better, much better. Phoenix was one of the least penalized teams in the National Football League (NFL). The kicking game shined.

OFFENSIVE IMPROVEMENT

After ranking 24th in scoring and 26th in rushing in 1992, the Cardinals saw the necessity for drastic offensive improvement in 1993. They found it! By signing two name free agents, former Cowboy quarterback Steve Beuerlein and ex-Redskin wide receiver Gary Clark, and using their first four draft choices to grab running back Garrison Hearst, offensive linemen Ernest Dye and Ben Coleman, and running back Ron Moore, respectively, the Cards took the necessary steps. Add the continued development of young players like wide receivers Ricky Proehl and Randal Hill, and the offense jelled!

Only San Francisco and Dallas outscored the Cardinals in the NFC Phoenix bettered its opponents by 57 points. The Cardinals and Chicago were the only NFL teams with losing records to outscore their 1993 opposition. Only Phoenix, Dallas, Green Bay, and Miami never were held below 10 points in a game. There were only four NFL teams with three players with 60 or more pass receptions. Phoenix was one of them. Atlanta, Houston, and Miami were the others.

Over the final five games, the Cardinals scored seven times following 10 takeaways.

The Cards' NFL and NFC ranking in the following list of categories underscores the improvement.

Credit for the offensive improvement perhaps should begin with Beuerlein, not only for the statistics he posted, but for the leadership he offered and the stability he brought to a critical position!

In 1994, Beuerlein will become the first

Quarterback Steve Beuerlein displayed record-setting passing accuracy in his first season as a Cardinal.

quarterback to start for the Cardinals two consecutive years since the team moved to Arizona in 1988, following Neil Lomax (1988), Gary Hogeboom (1989), Timm Rosenbach (1990), Tom Tupa (1991), and Chris Chandler (1992).

The words "career highs" and "accuracy" became synonymous with Beuerlein in 1993. His final 1993 statistics—258 completions, 418 pass attempts, 3,164 yards passing, 18 touchdown passes, 17 pass interceptions, 61.7 percent completion percentage, and 82.5 passing rating—all were career highs.

At Seattle on December 19, he completed 34 of 53 passes for 431 yards, all career single-game bests.

Beuerlein completed his first full NFL season as a starter in spectacular fashion in the season finale at Atlanta on January 2. By completing his first 14 passes, the first-year Cardinal signal-caller established a franchise record for consecutive completions, breaking the former mark of 12 shared by Jim Hart (1977) and Neil Lomax (twice in 1987). Beuerlein's 27-for-33 accuracy (81.8 percent) against the Falcons set a team single-game completion mark formerly held by John Roach (81.3 percent vs. Washington, Nov. 6, 1960). It also raised Beuerlein's season completion percentage to 61.7 percent, snapping the single-season standard of 61.6 percent (Lomax, 1984). Beuerlein and Lomax now are the only two quarterbacks in Cardinal history to crack the 60-percent barrier in pass completion percentage over an entire season.

In back-to-back September outings against Dallas and Detroit, Beuerlein completed over 74.1 percent of his passes (43 of 58), the first time a Cardinal quarterback displayed such two-game marksmanship since Lomax connected on 46 of 64 attempts (71.9 percent) against Green Bay and Buffalo in 1984.

Complementing Beuerlein's steady hands on the reins was a new-found rushing attack, thanks largely to the arrival of a rookie running back. Unexpectedly, though, the impact was made by fourth-round draft choice Moore, not the heralded Hearst.

The mild-mannered Moore from small-college Pittsburg (Kansas) State established a noteworthy list of freshman milestones while moving the chains for the Cardinals.

For starters, he became the Cardinals' first 1,000-yard rusher since Mitchell in 1985 and the first Card rookie to turn the trick since Anderson in 1979.

Moore's nine rushing touchdowns led all NFL rookies and set a Cardinal rookie record previously held by Anderson (8, 1979). It also was the most rushing touchdowns by a Cardinal since Mitchell posted nine in 1984.

Moore became a workhorse with efforts like his record-tying 36 rushes against the Eagles on November 7. The 160 rushing yards he amassed that afternoon rank as the no. 11 rushing effort in team annals and rate as the Cards' best single-game rushing total since a 179-yard explosion by Mitchell against the Eagles in 1985.

Over the final eight games, no NFL running back carried the ball more than Moore (191 attempts). His 710 yards over that span ranked third in the league to the Rams' Jerome Bettis (168–899) and the Cowboys' Emmitt Smith (156–820).

Against the Rams on December 5, Moore became only the fifth rookie in NFL history to tally four rushing touchdowns in a single game. The other four form an elite list: Dallas' Emmitt Smith (1980), Houston's Earl Campbell (1978), Chicago's Gale Sayers (1965), and Cleveland's Jim Brown (1957). En route to NFC "offensive player-of-the-week" honors, Moore also became the first Cardinal to score four single-game rushing touchdowns since Wayne Morris against New Orleans in 1980.

Hearst, the third selection of the 1993 NFL Draft and the first non-quarterback choice, missed training camp due to protracted contract negotiations and logged only 76 rushes for 264 yards and one touchdown before being felled with a season-ending knee injury against Washington on October 17. Before his surgery, however, the 1992 Heisman Trophy runner-up from Georgia flashed his potential against New England on October 10 with a 57-yard burst, the longest run from scrimmage by a Cardinal since Mitchell rambled 64 yards against Washington in 1985.

Cardinal receivers glittered in 1993, too. Larry Centers (66), Proehl (65), and Clark (63) combined to give the Cardinals three players with 60 or more receptions in the same season for the first time. Centers became the first running back to lead the Cardinals in receiving since Terry Metcalf (50) in 1974. Centers' 66 catches also were the second highest reception total by a Cardinal back, bettered only by Anderson's 70-grab season of 1984.

Among league running backs, Centers ranked fifth in receiving, and trailed only Philadelphia's Herschel Walker (75) in the NFC However, Centers sported a 9.1-yard average compared to Walker's 8.1. Centers, Walker, Eric Metcalf (Cleveland), Terry Kirby (Miami), and Johnny Johnson (N.Y. Jets) were the only NFL running backs to lead their teams in pass receiving in 1993.

Running back Ron Moore became the Cardinals' first 1,000-yard rusher since 1985. He also became only the fifth rookie in NFL history to tally four rushing touchdowns in one game, joining an elite group that includes current Dallas Cowboy Emmitt Smith and three retired legends, Houston's Earl Campbell, Chicago's Gale Sayers, and Cleveland's Jim Brown.

Proehl, who cracked the 60-reception plateau for the second consecutive season, caught touchdown passes in five straight games to match a club record he now shares with five others—Jackie Smith (1967), Bobby Joe Conrad (1963), Sonny Randle (twice, 1960 and '61–62), Bob Shaw (1950), and Mal Kutner (1947). Proehl, who has not missed an outing in his 64-game professional career, was named the Cardinals' most valuable player by the Phoenix chapter of the Professional Football Writers of America.

Clark reached a number of significant career milestones in his first season as a Cardinal. He became the only NFL player to post 50 or more receptions the past nine years. He also became the 11th player in league history to reach 600 receptions. The former Redskin, hampered by a nagging mid-season groin pull, was magnificent late in the campaign, grabbing 40 passes over the final six games for 561 yards and three touchdowns. Three of those six outings included 100-yard receiving totals. December 5 against the Rams, he amassed a team season best of 159 yards on eight receptions. Two weeks later at Seattle, he posted 12 career-high receptions. Clark concluded his ninth NFL season with the following career totals—612 receptions, 9,560 reception yards, 15.6-yard average per catch, and 62 touchdowns.

Speedy Randal Hill made three of his four touchdown receptions over the season's final three weeks, and handy special teams standout Anthony Edwards turned into a big-play specialist in limited playing time at wide receiver, notching receptions of 65 (touchdown), 55, and 49 yards, and a crucial 12-yard third-and-nine grab Dec. 19 at Seattle to keep the Cards' game-winning overtime drive alive among his 13 catches. He averaged 25.1 yards per reception.

The offensive line deserves credit for the improved rushing attack and pass protection that allowed only 33 quarterback sacks, fewest by Cardinal opponents since 1978 (22). Ironman left guard Lance Smith extended his streak of consecutive starts to 113 games. Sophomore Ed Cunningham became ensconced at center. Tackles Luis Sharpe and Rick Cunningham answered the bell for 16 weeks. Sharpe's 178 professional games—all starting assignments—lead the Cardinals. Guard Joe Wolf seized his first starting opportunity since late in 1992 to spell a battered Mark May over the season's final five games. Future stalwarts Dye and Coleman were slowed by knee problems.

DEFENSIVE IMPROVEMENT

The Cardinal defense—the innovative "Big Nickel"—was formidable in 1993. Make that sensational at times. The unit allowed two offensive touchdowns or less in 11 of 16 games. Three Cardinal foes were held touchdownless. Six opponents tallied 10 points or less, a Cardinal first since 1936. Only Phoenix, Chicago, and Cleveland prevented an opponent from scoring 30 points in a single game. That feat has been accomplished by only two other Cardinal squads since 1936.

The 27 touchdowns allowed are the fewest against a Cardinal defense since the NFL merger and adoption of the 16-game schedule in 1978. Phoenix allowed only 1.68 touchdowns per game, a figure bettered by only one Cardinal team since 1945 (1.57 in 1971), to rank fourth in Card annals.

Phoenix opponents scored only 269 points, the fewest in a 16-game season and the fewest allowed since the 1976 Cardinals yielded 267 points over 14 games.

Only five teams with sub-.500 records since 1978 have posted better defensive scoring statistics than the 1993 Cardinals.

| Year | Team | Record | Points Allowed |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1993 | Chicago | 7–9 | 230 |
| 1978 | Tampa Bay | 5–11 | 259 |
| 1991 | Seattle | 7–9 | 261 |
| 1979 | Kansas City | 7–9 | 262 |
| 1980 | Chicago | 7–9 | 264 |
| 1993 | Phoenix | 7–9 | 269 |

Seven Phoenix opponents failed to gain 100 yards rushing. The New York Giants' league-leading rushing attack fell victim to the Cardinals' rush defense twice—78 and 46 yards.

November 14 at Dallas, the Cowboys were held to 79 total yards in the second half. Philadelphia scored only three points on November 7, the Eagles' lowest output against the Cardinals since 1974. New Orleans was stymied into 143 total yards on October 31.

The Cardinals also were successful following offensive turnovers. While the Phoenix offense scored 93 points (15 scores) following 26 enemy offensive turnovers, the Cardinal defense held the opposition to only 47 points (nine scores) following 31 turnovers by the Phoenix offense. Over the last five games, Cardinal opponents scored only two times after nine Phoenix turnovers. And in the third and fourth quarters, 16 offensive turnovers by Phoenix turned into only 13 enemy points.

Over the final eight games, Phoenix foes managed only one field goal off second-half Cardinal turnovers.

The unit finished the season sporting its own impressive list of statistics.

Individually, the Cardinal defenders took turns in the spotlight. However, it took a season-ending November 7 knee injury to tackle Eric Swann to keep him from stealing it.

Swann, still only 23, emerged as a premier down lineman. Prior to his injury, Swann enjoyed two monster games. October 17 against Washington, he earned NFC defensive player-of-the-week by mauling the Redskins' offense, amassing 12 combined tackles (eight solos), causing a fumble he recovered, contributing two quarterback sacks for minus 15 yards, downing Redskin running back Reggie Brooks in the end zone for a safety, and notching two "hurries" of Washington quarterback Mark Rypien. At Detroit on September 26, Swann also dominated with 13 tackles (nine solos), 1.5 quarterback sacks, 1 deflected pass, 2 quarterback "hurries," and 1 blocked field goal while playing all 55 defensive snaps. The 13-tackle effort was the best by a Cardinal defensive tackle in at least 18 years.

Bulky tackles Keith Rucker and Reuben Davis led the still-stingy rush defense following Swann's injury when Phoenix held four of seven opponents below 100 yards on the ground.

End Michael Bankston blossomed in 1993. His five fumble recoveries were the most by an NFL player in 1993 and tied the team record he now shares with Chuck Walker (1969) and Tom Wham (1950). He led the defensive line in combined tackles (70), solo tackles (43), and snaps (740).

Powerful inside linebackers Eric Hill and Tyronne Stowe were excellent. Stowe led the Cardinals in combined tackles (119) and solos tackles (76). Hill, who missed the season's first three games due to the NFL's five-day letter rule after signing late, finished second with 92 combined tackles. He drew rave reviews.

Veterans Ken Harvey and Freddie Joe Nunn both recovered from 1992 knee injuries to become pass-rush specialists (ends) in the "Big Nickel." They rushed well. The cat-quick Harvey led the Cards in sacks (9.5) for the fifth consecutive season to raise his career total to 41.5. He enjoyed two multiple-sack outings against the Redskins and Giants. He also boasted 18 "hurries," a figure second only to Nunn. Nunn finished second to Harvey with 6.5 sacks but led Phoenix with 23 "hurries."

Inside linebacker Eric Hill posted 92 combined tackles.

Although the Cardinals intercepted only nine passes in 1993, the secondary still enjoyed its moments. Classy cornerback Aeneas Williams posted interceptions on consecutive Sundays against the Saints and Eagles. His memorable October 31 effort against New Orleans, his hometown team, featured his first two NFL touchdowns on a 20-yard fumble return and a 46-yard interception return. Williams and rover Lorenzo Lynch tied for the team lead with 15 deflected passes. Lynch, who swung between cornerback during Robert Massey's early-season contract problems, and safety, led the defense with three interceptions and 925 snaps out of a possible 968. He also led the secondary in combined tackles (87) and solos tackles (65), statistics that ranked third and second on the team, respectively.

Free-agent safeties John Booty and Chuck Cecil both suffered setbacks due to midseason injuries. Despite missing four games, Booty still ranked fourth in combined tackles (75) and tied for third in solo tackles (59). He also intercepted two passes. Cecil closed with 61 combined tackles but lost his starting position to Michael Zordich by mid-season. Zordich started the season's final nine games at free safety, posting 54 combined tackles (34 solos). Handy swingman Chris Oldham led the entire defense with three forced fumbles.

Kicker Greg Davis boomed the three longest field goals in Cardinal history.

KICKING IMPROVEMENT

The Cardinals' kicking game sparkled in 1993. Punter Rich Camarillo and kicker Greg Davis may rate as the NFL's best pair of legs.

Camarillo earned his third consecutive trip to the Pro Bowl, his fourth in five years as a Cardinal, and his fifth career nod. Enough said? His 37.8-yard net punting average led the NFC and ranked second in the NFL, and gave him five consecutive seasons with a net average exceeding 37 yards.

He had three punts downed at the enemy one yard line; two turned into safeties. He was charged with only eight touchbacks but enjoyed 23 punts inside the opponent's 20 yard line for the second consecutive year.

Camarillo, whose 171 NFL appearances rank second only to Sharpe among the 1993 Cards, also became only the second player since World War II to punt for the Cardinals for five consecutive seasons. Carl Birdsong (1981–85) was the other.

Davis became just the third Cardinal to score 100 points since 1970 and the first kicker since Neil O'Donoghue in 1984.

No kicker in Cardinal history kicked more field goals with as much accuracy in one season as Greg Davis in 1993. He converted 21 of 28 three-point attempts for 75 percent accuracy. Jim Bakken owns the next-best effort with 23-of-32 (72 percent) in 1973.

A perfect 13-for-13 inside 40 yards, Davis joined Detroit's Jason Hanson (24), Minnesota's Fuad Reveiz (22), and New Orleans' Morten Andersen (16) as the only NFL kickers not to miss inside 40 yards.

Davis also played long ball. Prior to 1993, only 10 players in NFL history had converted four or more field goals of 50 yards or more in one season. The feat was accomplished by seven kickers in 1993; Davis was one of them with four!

Two Davis three-pointers over 50 yards (50, 55) in one game—December 19 at Seattle—equalled the NFL single-game record shared by many.

Davis established his personal best and franchise record-long field goals three times—53 yards at Washington on September 5, 54 yards at Detroit on September 26, and 55 yards at Seattle on December 19. The latter tied the game on the final play of regulation; Davis followed with a 41-yard game-winner in overtime.

SEPT. 5, 1993 • VETERANS STADIUM (59,831)

Phoenix opened on the road for the sixth consecutive year, falling 23–17 at Philadelphia. The Cardinals spotted the Eagles two early touchdowns, the first the result of an 11-play, 87-yard drive, the second the aftermath of an interception of a Steve Beuerlein screen pass that William Thomas returned to the Cards' nine-yard stripe.

Phoenix gained only 231 net yards (48 rushing).

An errant center snap by Kani Kauahi spelled a third-quarter safety for Philadelphia that extended its lead to 16–3.

Eagle quarterback Randall Cunningham passed for 192 yards and rushed for 49 more.

The Cardinals had life when cornerback Lorenzo Lynch stole the ball from Eagle running back Vaughn Hebron and raced 55 yards for a touchdown with 3:40 remaining.

SEPT. 12, 1993 • R.F.K. STADIUM (53,525)

The Cardinals' 17–10 victory at Washington was their first success at R.F.K. Stadium since 1978 after 14 consecutive losses. Johnny Bailey set the tone with a 58-yard first-quarter punt return for a touchdown that put the Cards ahead 7–0. Greg Davis followed with a franchise-record 53-yard field goal, and running back Ron Moore ran 18 yards for his first NFL touchdown.

Defensively, the Cards' "Big Nickel" limited the Washington rushing attack to 58 yards. Offensively, Phoenix displayed a balanced attack—303 total yards (152 rushing, 151 passing)—and enjoyed a 35:54–24:06 time of possession advantange.

Former Redskin star receiver Gary Clark, in his first appearance at R.F.K. Stadium in a Cardinal uniform, led Phoenix with six receptions for 93 yards.

COWBOYS 17, CARDINALS 10
SEPT. 19, 1993 • SUN DEVIL STADIUM (73,025)

The defending Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys downed the Cardinals 17–10 in the Phoenix home opener played before a franchise-record crowd of 73,025.

Dallas took command by driving 80 yards in 11 plays for an eight-yard Derrick Lassic touchdown run following the opening kickoff, and a 23-yard Eddie Murray field goal in its next possession. The Cowboys also benefitted from 410 total yards, quarterback Troy Aikman's 21-for-27 passing for 281 yards, and a stifling defense that limited the Cards to 68 yards rushing and 273 total yards, and one pass interception that led to the Pokes' lone second-half touchdown, a two-yard run by Lassic that extended the lead to 17–0.

The Cardinals made a second-half charge. Quarterback Steve Beuerlein found wide receiver Ricky Proehl for a 12-yard touchdown. Then Phoenix drove to the Cowboys' two yard line and settled for a 20-yard Greg Davis field goal to cut the Dallas lead to 17–10.

Four Dallas first downs in their final possession kept the Cardinals from an opportunity to tie the game.

LIONS 26, CARDINALS 20
SEPT. 26, 1993 • SILVERDOME (57,180)

The big-play bugaboo, turnovers, and inopportune penalties spelled a 26–20 setback to Detroit in the Silverdome.

A 61-yard return of the opening kickoff by Detroit's Mel Gray led to the first of four Jason Hanson field goals. Three-pointers two and three, also in the first half, were the result of 46- and 47-yard pass completions. Cardinal running back Garrison Hearst's fumble at the Phoenix 24-yard line led to a one-yard touchdown plunge by Lion running back Derrick Moore three plays later.

But the Cardinals overcame the first-half miscues to lead 17–16 at intermission. Quarterback Steve Beuerlein tossed two touchdown passes, and Greg Davis set a personal best and the Cardinal franchise record for the second time in three weeks with a 54-yard field goal on the last play of the first half.

On Detroit's first second-half possession, Moore rambled 48 yards, then quarterback Andre Ware hit wide receiver Brett Perriman for a nine-yard touchdown pass on the next play.

The teams traded field goals to reach the final score.

PATRIOTS 23, CARDINALS 21
OCT. 10, 1993 • SUN DEVIL STADIUM (36,115)

New England earned new Head Coach Bill Parcells his first victory at its helm with a ball-control offense that ran 80 plays, gained 432 total yards, and notched 25 first downs while maintaining a 13:04 (36:28–23:32) time-of-possession advantage.

Two Cardinal turnovers in the final 1:37 of the first stanza—fumbled punt, intercepted pass—handed the Pats two field goals to shave the Cards' lead to 14–13.

Yet despite a third field goal by the Pats' Scott Sisson, a fourth-quarter pass interception by Card safety John Booty and a 30-touchdown pass from quarterback Steve Beuerlein to wide receiver Randal Hill staked Phoenix to a 21–16 lead.

But lightning struck with 5:04 remaining when a lateral turned a 13-yard pass completion into an 82-yard gain. The game-winning two-yard touchdown pass from Secules to tight end Ben Coates followed two plays later.

CARDINALS 36, REDSKINS 6
OCT. 17, 1993 • SUN DEVIL STADIUM (48,143)

A smothering defensive effort (three recovered fumbles, one pass interception, five quarterback sacks), which held Washington to 246 total yards, and a 36-point offensive explosion, combined to post the Cardinals' first two-game single-season sweep of the Redskins since 1974.

Defensive tackle Eric Swann mauled the Redskins' offense, amassing 12 combined tackles (eight solos), causing a fumble and recovering it, contributing two sacks (–15 yards), downing running back Reggie Brooks in the end zone for a safety, and hurrying Washington quarterback Mark Rypien twice. Linebackers Freddie Joe Nunn and Ken Harvey shared Swann's spotlight with 1.5 sacks apiece. Nunn added two forced fumbles; Harvey also forced a fumble and notched a tackle for loss.

Offensively, wide receiver Ricky Proehl logged his fourth consecutive game with a touchdown pass (42 yards), a Cardinal first since 1986. Running back Garrison Hearst scored his first NFL touchdown (1 yard).

49ERS 28, CARDINALS 14
OCT. 24, 1993 • CANDLESTICK PARK (62,020)

Phoenix trailed 28–0 before denting the scoreboard with a 65-yard Steve Beuerlein-to-Anthony Edwards touchdown pass in the fourth quarter.

Three 49er interceptions of Beuerlein passes proved critical. Six plays after San Francisco took a 7–0 lead on a 91-yard drive, an interception gave the 49ers the ball back at midfield. The first of two Jerry Rice touchdown receptions followed five plays later. Just before halftime, the Cards drove the ball to the 49ers' 10-yard line, but a Beuerlein pass was pilfered at the goal line. On the first Phoenix possession of the second half, the Cards drove to the San Francisco 33 yard line before a tipped Beuerlein pass was smothered by ex-Cardinal safety Tim McDonald.

A scoreless third quarter left the Cardinals within shouting distance at 14–0, but Rice's second scoring grab padded the lead to 21–0 early in the fourth quarter. Ricky Watters added the final touchdown on a 19-yard run.

Ricky Proehl ended the day's scoring with a touchdown reception for the fifth consecutive game to equal the Cardinal record.

SAINTS 20, CARDINALS 17
OCT. 31, 1993 • SUN DEVIL STADIUM (36,778)

Two defensive touchdowns by cornerback Aeneas Williams—20-yard fumble return, 46-yard interception return—staked Phoenix to a 17–7 lead, but New Orleans rallied to win 20–17.

Williams' first two professional touchdowns loomed as the difference as both offenses struggled, even after a 48-yard third-quarter field goal by the Saints' Morten Andersen closed the gap to 17–10. But New Orleans' opening fourth-quarter possession produced a six-play, 69-yard drive, capped by a game-tying 25-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Wade Wilson to wide receiver Quinn Early.

On the Cards' ensuing possession, quarterback Chris Chandler was intercepted by Saint safety Gene Atkins. His 37-yard return set the table for Andersen's game-winning 38-yard field goal.

The Phoenix defense posted good-enough-to-win numbers, allowing only 272 total yards (96 rushing, 176 passing), while posting two quarterback sacks, and two touchdowns (Williams).

Chandler and Steve Beuerlein were sacked six times for minus 38 yards.

CARDINALS 16, EAGLES 3
NOV. 7, 1993 • SUN DEVIL STADIUM (41,634)

The Cardinals rode their best rushing effort in 12 years to their first home-field victory over Philadelphia since moving to Arizona.

The Cards' 243-yard rushing total, their best since 258 yards versus Buffalo on Nov. 15, 1981, provided Phoenix a lopsided 38:59–21:01 time-of-possession advantage. Rookie running back Ron Moore led the ground attack with 160 yards on 36 carries.

Running back Larry Centers contributed 105 total yards (59 rushing, 46 receiving). Centers' 33-yard second-quarter run set the table for Greg Davis' third and final field goal.

The methodical offensive effort overshadowed a sturdy Phoenix defense that limited the Eagles to three points, their lowest total against the Cardinals since 1974, held Philadelphia to 65 yards rushing and 140 yards passing (205 total net yards), notched three sacks, and intercepted a pass.

Cornerback Aeneas Williams returned the pickoff 41 yards, leading to field position that produced the game's only touchdown, a 10-yard pass from quarterback Chris Chandler to wide receiver Gary Clark.

Phoenix tallied its 16 points by scoring on its first four possessions—field goal, field goal, touchdown, and field goal.

COWBOYS 20, CARDINALS 15
NOV. 14, 1993 • TEXAS STADIUM (64,224)

The Cardinals flirted with an upset of the defending Super Bowl champion Cowboys at Dallas before succumbing 20–15.

At halftime the Cowboys held a commanding 17–0 lead after limiting Phoenix to 98 total yards (76 passing, 22 rushing) and punts the first seven times it had the ball.

But Phoenix contended in the second half by holding Dallas to 79 total yards (32 rushing, 47 passing) during the stanza. On their first third-quarter possession, the Cards settled for a 19-yard Greg Davis field goal after driving to the Dallas one-yard line. Tackle Reuben Davis recovered a fumble at the Dallas 19-yard line on the Cowboys' next play from scrimmage. Three plays later, quarterback Chris Chandler hit running back Larry Centers for a 17-yard touchdown. After Dallas converted a Cardinal fumble into another field goal, Phoenix countered with five quick points. After a punt was downed at the Dallas one-yard line, blitzing defensive back Chris Oldham forced Bernie Kosar to intentionally ground the ball in his own end zone for a safety. The Cards then drove the Pokes' ensuing punt 30 yards for a 47-yard Davis field goal.

GIANTS 19, CARDINALS 17
NOV. 28, 1993 • GIANTS STADIUM (59,979)

The Cardinals suffered their 10th consecutive road loss to the Giants when Brad Daluiso booted a 54-yard field goal with 32 seconds remaining to give New York a dramatic 19–17 come-from-behind victory.

The Cardinals held the vaunted New York running game to 46 yards on 17 carries.

Phoenix drew first blood with 10 first-quarter points, a 47-yard field goal by Greg Davis and a one-yard touchdown pass to H-back Butch Rolle. After New York gained the lead with two David Treadwell field goals and a 20-yard Phil Simms-to-Ed McCaffrey touchdown pass, the Cards responded with a nine-play, 80-yard drive that Ricky Proehl completed with his seventh touchdown reception of the season, a 17-yard toss from Steve Beuerlein, to give Phoenix a 17–13 lead late in the third quarter. The Giants settled for Treadwell's third field goal after reaching the Cardinals' four-yard line on their ensuing possession, setting the stage for Daluiso's heroics.

CARDINALS 38, RAMS 10
DEC. 5, 1993 • SUN DEVIL STADIUM (33,964)

The Cardinals struck early and often for a 38–10 victory in the Rams' first regular-season appearance in Arizona.

Rookie running back Ron Moore and wide receiver Gary Clark were the featured offensive performers. Moore's 115 rushing yards were highlighted by four touchdowns (1, 19, 1, and 1 yards), a Cardinal first since 1977. Clark posted eight receptions for 159 yards and a touchdown.

The Cardinals scored their five touchdowns on alternate possessions beginning with their first drive following the opening kickoff, a nine-play, 78-yard march that ended with their first opening-drive touchdown of the season—Moore's first one-yard plunge. Following a Ram field goal, Phoenix tallied 31 unanswered points to take a 38–3.

The Cardinal defense continued to excel with a pass interception (safety Lorenzo Lynch), a blocked field-goal attempt (tackle Keith Rucker), and a quarterback sack and fumble recovery on the same play (end Michael Bankston).

LIONS 21, CARDINALS 14
DEC. 12, 1993 • SUN DEVIL STADIUM (39,393)

Phoenix suffered its eighth loss of the season by seven points or less and its second to the Lions.

Detroit answered Cardinal touchdowns in the second and third quarters on its ensuing possessions to send a 14–14 deadlock into the fourth quarter.

The Lions took the lead on a 43-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Erik Kramer to wide receiver Willie Green early in the fourth quarter. Phoenix responded with its second long drive of the day. Beginning at their own nine-yard line, the Cards drove to the Detroit one-yard line in 15 plays. But the Cardinals were turned away on three consecutive plays.

The Lion defense pressured Card quarterback Steve Beuerlein throughout the afternoon, sacking him four times for minus 28 yards and making three interceptions.

Phoenix running back Larry Centers set career highs with nine pass receptions for 77 yards.

Defensively, end Michael Bankston recovered a Lion fumble that led to Moore's touchdown four plays later, sacked Kramer once, and added eight tackles (seven solos).

CARDINALS 30, SEAHAWKS 27 (OT)
DEC. 19, 1993 • KINGDOME (45,737)

The Cardinals' first overtime game since 1986 turned into their first victory on artificial turf in 13 tries and their first indoor success since their last visit to the Kingdome (1989) when kicker Greg Davis' third field goal of the game ended the affair just 6:45 after his second three-pointer, a franchise record and personal best 55-yarder, tied the game on the final play of regulation.

The Cardinals' passing game, featuring career bests from quarterback Steve Beuerlein (34 comp., 53 att., 431 yards, 3 touchdowns) and wide receiver Gary Clark (12 receptions), and a 58-yard touchdown connection to wide receiver Randal Hill, saved the day after the Cardinals spotted Seattle a 20–7 halftime lead.

Phoenix scored the final five times it touched the ball—four in regulation, one in overtime.

CARDINALS 17, GIANTS 6
DEC. 26, 1993 • SUN DEVIL STADIUM (53,414)

The New York Giants and their NFL-best 11–3 record were held without a touchdown at Sun Devil Stadium for the second consecutive year to complete the Cardinals' first three-victory December in 10 years.

The Phoenix defense was dominant, particularly in the second half, when New York failed to cross midfield on offense, gained only 69 total net yards, and possessed the ball for just 11:17. For the day, New York's league-leading rushing attack mustered only 78 yards.

Offensively, rookie running back Ron Moore stole the show, gaining 135 yards on 23 carries and two touchdowns.

The Phoenix defense turned the game's momentum in the first half by stopping New York drives at the Cardinals' two and five yard lines, forcing the Giants to settle for two David Treadwell field goals.

The Cardinals, on the other hand, saved their best for last, scoring the first three times they had the ball and gaining 248 of their 333 total net yards in the second half.

CARDINALS 27, FALCONS 10
JAN. 2, 1994 • GEORGIA DOME (44,360)

The Cardinals were dominant to conclude their season with a three-game winning streak. Two touchdown receptions by wide receiver Randal Hill and the first of two Greg Davis field goals in a span of the first four Phoenix possessions staked the Cardinals to a 17–3 halftime lead.

Quarterback Steve Beuerlein displayed record-setting passing accuracy. By completing 27 of 33 passes, he set three Cardinal records: Single-game completion percentage (.818), single-season completion percentage (.617), and consecutive completions (14).

Wide receiver Gary Clark caught nine passes for 121 yards and one touchdown. Hill's only two receptions were his two touchdowns. Running back Larry Centers' eight grabs gave him the team season lead with 66. Other milestones included 96 yards rushing by running back Ron Moore, making him the Cards' first 1,000-yard single-season rusher since 1985 and the team's first rookie to accomplish the feat since 1979. Davis logged nine points to become the first Cardinal to score 100 points since 1984.

HISTORY

FRANCHISE HISTORY

The Cardinals, a charter member of the National Football League, boast the distinction of being the oldest continuously run professional football franchise in the nation.

THE EARLY DAYS

Founded in 1898, the team began as a neighborhood group which gathered to play football in a predominantly Irish area of Chicago's south side, playing under the name Morgan Athletic Club. The team later was acquired by Chris O'Brien, a painting and decorating contractor, and soon its playing site changed to nearby Normal Field, prompting the new name Normals.

In 1901, the team gained longstanding identification when O'Brien, finding a bargain, bought used jerseys from the University of Chicago. The jerseys were faded maroon in color, prompting O'Brien to declare, "That's not maroon, it's Cardinal red!" The club's permanent nickname had been born!

The jersey color and the location of the field led to a new and obvious name, the Racine Cardinals.

In Chicago at the time, football competition was exclusively amateur but such opposition became increasingly hard to find, so in 1906, the team had to disband.

In 1913, O'Brien reorganized the Cardinals. By 1917 they were able to buy new uniforms and hire a coach, Marshall Smith. That year they lost only two games and were champions of the Chicago Football League.

The war in Europe and a flu epidemic in the United States forced the team to suspend operations once again in 1918. Following Armistice Day, O'Brien organized the Cardinals for a third time. From that day forward, the Cardinals have been a permanent part of the professional football scene in America.

GROWTH

The Racine Cardinals, their popularity growing in the Chicago area, eventually became one of 11 charter members of the American Professional Football League, forerunner of the NFL, in 1920 for the $100 franchise fee. Immediately after joining the league, O'Brien lured a great halfback, John "Paddy" Driscoll, to the Cardinals for $3,000 a year, a sum considered outlandish at the time. But Driscoll was an authentic superstar, a superior runner, blocker, punter, and possibly the finest drop kicker in the history of football.

In 1922, a team from Racine, Wis. joined the NFL, forcing the Cardinals to change their name to the Chicago Cardinals. The Cardinals also moved into their new home, Comiskey Park, the same year.

Under new Head Coach Norman Barry, the Cardinals outdistanced a field of 20 teams to win their first NFL championship in 1925.

A Chicago physician, Dr. David Jones, purchased the team in 1929. In his first year of ownership, he coaxed running back Ernie Nevers out of retirement to become player-coach. Still in his prime, the 26-year-old Nevers scored 40 points on six touchdowns and four extra points in an historic 40–6 victory over the crosstown Bears on Thanksgiving Day, 1929.

After guiding the Cardinals to a 16–14–3 composite record in three seasons, the legendary Nevers retired as both coach and player in 1932.

MODERN ERA

Nevers' departure also marked the arrival of a new club owner. Charles W. Bidwill, Sr., a vice president of the Chicago Bears, purchased the Cardinals for Jones' asking price of $50,000. Bidwill divested himself of his Bears' holdings and a new era began.

However, the team sorely missed Nevers' magic on the field. The Cardinals endured difficult years in the 1930s and early '40s. World War II hit the team heavily. The Cardinals' top passer, receiver, and lineman—Johnny Clement, Bill Dewell, and Joe Kuharich, respectively—entered the service. In 1944 as a war-time emergency measure, the Cardinals combined with the Pittsburgh Steelers to play as one team. It was called Card-Pitt. Co-coached by the Cardinals' Phil Handler and the Steelers' Walt Kiesling, a former Cardinal guard, the team split its home games between Chicago's Comiskey Park and Forbes Field in Pittsburgh but failed to win a game in 10 tries.

Success finally returned following the war. In 1945, the arrival of University of Missouri quarterback Paul Christman trumpeted the team's conversion to the "T" formation. Fullback Pat Harder and halfback Elmer Angsman were added in 1946. And in 1947, the "million dollar backfield" was completed when halfback Charley Trippi became a Cardinal.

Coached by Jimmy Conzelman, the 1947 Cardinals stormed to the Western Division title and a 28–21 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles in the NFL championship game on the frozen Comiskey Park turf on Chicago's south side.

But the '47 title season was bittersweet for the Cardinals' organization when the April death of Bidwill deprived the owner of witnessing the club's first NFL crown in 22 years. With his passing, Bidwill's widow, Violet Bidwill, assumed control of the franchise for the next 15 years, a span that included a second consecutive Western Division championship and appearance in the 1948 NFL championship game, a 7–0 loss at Philadelphia, and the transfer of the team from Chicago to St. Louis in 1960.

Upon Mrs. Bidwill's death in January of 1962, control moved to sons Charles W. Bidwill, Jr. and William V. Bidwill. In 1972, the latter and his family gained sole ownership with William becoming managing general partner. On July 1, 1976, incorporation of the company was accomplished with Bidwill continuing as chief executive officer.

After 14 years in the city, the Cardinals brought their first championship to St. Louis in 1974. The Big Red captured the NFC Eastern Division flag under Head Coach Don Coryell and advanced to the playoffs with a 10–4 regular-season record.

Former tight end Jackie Smith becomes the 13th Cardinal Hall of Famer when he is inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1994. He played 198 games as a Cardinal from 1963–77, third most in franchise history. He caught 480 passes for 7,918 yards and 40 touchdowns during his standout career that also included the 1978 season as a Dallas Cowboy.

However, the Cardinals lost to the Minnesota Vikings, 30–14, in their first playoff appearance since 1948.

Again in 1975, Coryell provided St. Louis with a division title but another playoff loss, this time to the Rams in Los Angeles, 35–23, ended the Cards' post-season dream in the first outing.

The Cardinals next appeared in the playoffs in 1982 when Head Coach Jim Hanifan's club lost a first-round game at Green Bay, 41–16. In 1984, an offensively explosive St. Louis team narrowly missed the playoffs—and the NFC East title—with a 9–7 record. However, the Cardinals stumbled to a 5–11 mark in 1985, prompting Hanifan's dismissal and the hiring of long-time Dallas Cowboys' assistant Gene Stallings as the team's new head coach.

ARIZONA

After 28 years in St. Louis, the Cardinals relocated to Arizona in the spring of 1988 and made Sun Devil Stadium on the campus of Arizona State University their new home.

Their first season in the Valley of the Sun began optimistically when the team raced to a 7–4 record and a share of the NFC East Division lead. But untimely injuries struck and a five-game losing streak ensued to finish the year, dashing hopes of the club's first post-season berth since 1982. However, the Cardinals' new home provided club single-game (67,139 vs. Dallas in Arizona inaugural game) and single-season (472,937) attendance records in the team's first autumn in Arizona.

Two coaching changes and a name change have altered the face of the Cardinals since their Arizona arrival. Following their first two seasons in the desert, long-time Washington Redskin assistant Joe Bugel arrived as head coach, a position he held for four seasons until Buddy Ryan was named to replace him and serve as general manager on February 3, 1994.

On March 17, 1994, President Bidwill announced his intention to change the name of the team to the Arizona Cardinals. The change was adopted unanimously by vote of NFL owners the following week.

All the Cardinals' franchise attendance records have been established since moving to the desert. The 1988 total of 472,937 remains the single-season best. The top 12 single-game home crowds in franchise history have watched the Cardinals in Sun Devil Stadium, including the largest, a throng of 73,025 that saw Phoenix face Dallas on September 19, 1993.

HERITAGE

The list of former Cardinals enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame will grow to 13 in 1994 when ex-tight end Jackie Smith joins the elite group.

The others are Charles Bidwill, Guy Chamberlin, Conzelman, Driscoll, Kiesling, Curly Lambeau, Dick "Night Train" Lane, Ollie Matson, Nevers, Jim Thorpe, Trippi, and Larry Wilson. Wilson currently serves the Cardinals as a vice president.

HALL OF FAMER JACKIE SMITH

Former Cardinals trainer Jack Rockwell is a sharp judge of athletic talent.

Upon watching a jut-jawed young man play tight end in an intrasquad game for a small teachers college in Louisiana, Rockwell told the Cardinals about his find and persuaded them to take a chance on the college player. No other club in professional football felt obliged to take a risk on the prospect, but on Rockwell's recommendation the Cardinals did. They selected Jackie Smith out of Northwest Louisiana State in the 10th round of the 1963 NFL Draft.

Rockwell's scouting instincts proved genius. Despite a high school football career that lasted only one-half season, Smith played 15 years for the Cardinals (1963–77) and one season for the Dallas Cowboys (1978).

And now, 31 years later, the improbable career of the 6–4, 232-pound tight end completed its incredible cycle as Smith was accorded his sport's ultimate honor, induction into the Pro Football Hall of Fame after a 16-year NFL career. Other members of the class of 1994 include running backs Tony Dorsett and Leroy Kelly, defensive back Jimmy Johnson, defensive lineman Randy White, and coach Bud Grant.

"I feel going in to the Hall of Fame that I represent all the Cardinal players because of my love for all of those guys and what they had contributed to me," Smith said. "When you're that close to a bunch of guys you feel like you're one of them because everybody played for everybody else."

In between his aborted attempt to play football in high school and his final NFL season in 1978, Smith redefined the role of an NFL tight end as a deep receiving threat while he fashioned a landmark career.

No player was more determined to play than Smith and, even though he battled injuries a good part of his career, he missed only 12 games in 16 years. The Cardinals' offensive co-captain, Smith saw service in his first 121 games before a knee injury in 1971 ended his streak and caused him to miss the last five games of the season. Altogether, he played 210 games,—198 of them with the Cardinals to rank third in team annals—and the last 12 with Dallas in 1978.

At the time of his retirement, Smith ranked as the leading tight end receiver in NFL history with 480 catches for 7,918 yards and 40 touchdowns, placing him 11th among receivers all-time. His season best was 56 receptions for 1,205 yards and nine touchdowns in 1967, when he also was named to the all-NFL team. He caught more than 40 passes in a season seven times and was a five-time Pro Bowler.

Smith, fast enough that the Cardinals often used him on end-around rushing plays, averaged 16.5 yards per reception. Utilizing his other talents, Smith was the Cardinals' punter from 1964-66 and as he was nearing the end of his career, he filled in as a kickoff returner in emergencies.

"He was probably as complete a tight end as there has ever been in the business," says Larry Wilson, who played with Smith in St. Louis for 10 years and is now a Cardinals vice president. "He had running back ability once he caught it. He had wide receiver hands. He was big enough to stand in and block defensively. To me, he was just the total tight end because he had a tremendous amount of desire. When he caught the football he caused trouble in the secondary."

Smith was born February 23, 1940, in Columbia, Mississippi, but his family migrated to Louisiana. It was there at Kentwood High School that his football career had its shaky beginning. Smith was a first-chair clarinet player in the school band but by the time he was a sophomore, he decided he wanted to try football.

He went out for spring practice during his sophomore year but suffered a torn Achilles tendon and sat out the entire year. As a junior, he had osteomyelitis in his ankle but, as Smith laughs, it got him out of playing in the band. He returned to play in the second half of the last game his junior year.

"We were in the single wing and I was one of the backs," Smith said. "I ran so goofy that the other team couldn't figure out what I was doing."

Smith started his senior year at tailback but incurred a severe hip injury in the fourth game, causing his prep career to amount to five games.

"I didn't get any football knowledge in high school," Smith says. "I didn't even know what a draw play was. The only reason I went to college was because of track. I ran track the whole time I was in high school and eventually won the state championship in the hurdles."

Smith's still-undeveloped football career received a big boost because of a scholarship rule that permitted Northwest Louisiana State to offer only a half scholarship for track. But if Smith would agree to play football, he would land a full scholarship.

Smith was not a major star during his four years at Northwestern Louisiana State, but he displayed enough speed to impress Rockwell.

"I had no idea I was even being considered until I got that telegram from the Cardinals notifying me that I'd been drafted," Smith said.

The Cardinals programmed Smith to play flanker, but good fortune intruded again. Fran Polsfoot, the Cardinals' tight end coach, saw possibilities for Smith at tight end. At that time the tight end was becoming popularized by such stars as Mike Ditka and John Mackey, who along with Smith are the only tight ends enshrined in the Hall of Fame.

Jackie Smith, the newest Cardinal Hall of Fame inductee, was known as a complete tight end.

He took advantage of his chance at tight end when starter Taz Anderson was injured early in the 1963 season. Smith won the spot for good in a 24-23 victory over Pittsburgh that same year. Against the Steelers, he caught nine passes for 212 yards, a game that still stands as a landmark performance in his career.

Smith didn't excel only on the football field. He was popular with his teammates and fans in the community.

He really is a great person," offers Wilson, who was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1978. "He's a heck of a role model as far as paying back the sport for what it has given to him

"He'll joke with you. He'll play with you. He spends a lot of time with many youth groups. That's why he's one of the characters in the business."

OVERTIME GAMES

DEC. 19, 1993 — CARDINALS 30, SEAHAWKS 27 (AWAY)

Phoenix scored the final five times it touched the football—four in regulation, one in overtime. Place kicker Greg Davis tied the game at 27–27 on the final play of regulation with a franchise-record and personal-best 55-yard field goal. After winning the overtime coin toss, the Cardinals started the game-winning drive at their 20-yard line. Thirteen plays later, including a crucial 12-yard third-and-nine midfield completion to wide receiver Anthony Edwards, Davis delivered again with a 41-yard game-winning field goal.

DEC. 7, 1986 — CARDINALS 10, EAGLES 10 (AWAY)

The Cardinals won the toss. Reggie White blocks Eric Schubert's 40-yard field goal attempt. The teams trade punts. Paul McFadden's 43-yard field goal attempt is wide left. Schubert misses a 37-yard effort. Matt Cavanaugh's pass is intercepted by Carl Carter and returned to the Eagles' 48 yard line as time expires.

SEPT. 8, 1985 — CARDINALS 27, BROWNS 24 (AWAY)

OCT. 24, 1983 — GIANTS 20, CARDINALS 20 (HOME)

The Cardinals won the toss in a memorable Monday Night Football offering. The teams trade punts before Cardinal place kicker Neil O'Donoghue misses a 44-yard field goal attempt wide left. Dave Jennings punt returned by Steve Bird to the Cardinals' 21 yard line. Quarterback Neil Lomax is intercepted by Mark Haynes who loses six yards to the New York 33 yard line. Jennings' punt is downed on the St. Louis 17 yard line. O'Donoghue's 19-yard field goal attempt is wide right. Giant quarterback Jeff Rutledge's pass is intercepted by Lionel Washington who returns it 23 yards to New York's 25 yard line. O'Donoghue's third field goal attempt of overtime is wide right from 42 yards out. Rutledge is intercepted again, this time by Wayne Smith at the St. Louis 33 yard line, to end the game.

•Last Meeting
January 2, 1994 • Cardinals 27, Falcons 10 (A)
The Cardinals were dominant to conclude their season with a three-game winning streak. Two touchdown receptions by wide receiver Randal Hill and the first of two Greg Davis field goals in a span of the first four Phoenix possessions staked the Cardinals to a 17–3 halftime lead. Quarterback Steve Beuerlein displayed record-setting passing accuracy. By completing 27 of 33 passes, he set three Cardinal records: Single-game completion percentage (.818), single-season completion percentage (.617), and consecutive completions (14). Wide receiver Gary Clark caught nine passes for 121 yards and one touchdown. Hill's only two receptions were his two touchdowns. Running back Larry Centers' eight grabs gave him the team season lead with 66. Other milestones included 96 yards rushing by running back Ronald Moore, making him the Cards' first 1,000-yard single-season rusher since 1985 and the team's first rookie to accomplish the feat since 1979. Davis logged nine points to become the first Cardinal to score 100 points since 1984.

•Series Notes
The Cardinals hold an 11–5 overall advantage in their encounters with Atlanta, including victories in five of the past six meetings ... the Cards were victims of Atlanta's first home victory as a new franchise, a 16–10 defeat on Dec. 11, 1966 ... at one stretch in the series, the Cardinals won five consecutive games (1971–76) ... Phoenix owns a 6–4 mark on the road against Atlanta ... 1994 marks the third consecutive season the Cards will travel to the Georgia Dome.

October 28, 1990 • Chicago 31, Cardinals 21 (H)
The series renewal saw the Cardinals spot the NFC Central Division-leading Bears an insurmountable 28–0 second-quarter lead before falling 31–21 following a strong second-half showing. The Bears scored touchdowns on three of their first four possessions to take a 28–3 halftime lead. Phoenix stormed back behind the passing of quarterback Timm Rosenbach, who threw for 256 yards and enjoyed his third consecutive game without an interception. The contest also included a nine-yard pass completion to wide receiver Roy Green that made him the Cardinals' career leader in pass reception yardage, snapping former tight end Jackie Smith's standard of 7,918 yards.

•Series Notes
The Cardinals and Bears boast the oldest regular-season rivalry in NFL history dating to the 1920s when the two shared the Windy City ... the Bears maintain a 53–25–6 advantage in the series, but the Cards have won two of the last three and four of the last seven meetings ... in the most recent regular-season clash, the Cardinals set a franchise attendance mark of 71,233 in Sun Devil Stadium on Oct. 28, 1990, also the largest crowd in the history of the series ... that mark now ranks third only to packed houses of 73,025 in 1993 and 72,439 in 1992 for the Cowboys ... the Cards have won the last three preseason meetings: 12–10 in 1991 and 11–10 last year (both in Soldier Field) and 20–17 in 1992 at Sun Devil Stadium.

September 4, 1988 • Cincinnati 21, Cardinals 14 (A)

The Cardinals' goal-line offense was stopped in first-and-goal situations on its opening possession as well as the game's final drive as the Cards lost a 21–14 heartbreaker to Super Bowl-bound Cincinnati in Riverfront Stadium. The Cardinals took the game's opening kickoff 64 yards for a first down at the Bengals' one-yard line but came away empty-handed. The Cards then drove 79 yards in the final 3:59 to the one-yard line, only to be denied on four downs. Stump Mitchell carried the ball 22 times for 110 yards and Neil Lomax connected on 21 of 31 passes for 227 yards and a pair of touchdowns. But the eight plays from the Bengals' one-yard line netted a combined minus 19 yards as the Cards dropped their first game as the Phoenix Cardinals.

•Series Notes

The Cardinals and Bengals have met just four times in regular-season play ... Cincinnati holds a 3–1 advantage ... the home team has won each contest ... the Bengals won the first two contests in Riverfront Stadium by scores of 42–34 in 1973 and 34–28 in 1979 ... after the Cardinals collected a 41–27 victory in Busch Stadium in St. Louis in 1985, Cincinnati handed the Cards a defeat in Riverfront Stadium three years later, a 21–14 heartbreaker in the 1988 season opener and the Cardinals' first game representing Arizona.

October 23, 1988 • Cleveland 29, Cardinals 21 (H)

The Cardinal defense produced four turnovers, two of which set up scores, to erase a 14–0 deficit late in the first half. But Cleveland's Bernie Kosar enjoyed a stellar performance in his first action in six weeks as the Cardinals dropped a 29–21 decision to the Browns in Sun Devil Stadium. After suffering an elbow injury in the season opener, Kosar returned to complete 25 of 43 passes for 314 yards and three touchdowns as the Cards dropped to 4–4 at the midway point of the season. With Stump Mitchell (ankle) on the inactive list, fullback Earl Ferrell rushed for 110 yards and Cliff Stoudt helped forge a 21–20 lead in relief of Neil Lomax (reaggravated hip injury). Two fourth-quarter turnovers, however, prevented any chance of a Cardinals' comeback. Lomax, who left the game following a sack in the third quarter, completed 11 of 19 pass attempts for 120 yards, including a two-yard toss to J.T. Smith just before halftime, ending Cleveland's streak of not allowing an opponent touchdown pass over 33 quarters.

•Series Notes

Cleveland leads the series dating to 1950 by a 31–10–3 margin ... the two teams have met just four times since 1974, however ... the Cardinals were victorious in St. Louis with a 29–7 win in 1974 and edged the Browns 30–27 in overtime in Cleveland Stadium in 1985 ... Cleveland's two wins in the past four encounters came in Busch Stadium by a 38–20 margin in 1979 and a 29–21 triumph in Sun Devil Stadium in 1988, the Cardinals' first season in Arizona ... from 1950 through 1969, the teams met each season on a home-and-home basis as members of the NFL Eastern Conference, a stretch of 40 games which saw the Browns accumulate a 29–8–3 advantage.

•Last Meeting

November 14, 1993 • Dallas 20, Cardinals 15 (A)

The Cardinals flirted with an upset of the defending Super Bowl champion Cowboys at Dallas before succumbing 20–15. At halftime the Cowboys held a commanding 17–0 lead after limiting Phoenix to 98 total yards (76 passing, 22 rushing) and punts the first seven times it had the ball. But Phoenix contended in the second half by holding Dallas to 79 total yards (32 rushing, 47 passing) during the stanza. On their first third-quarter possession, the Cards settled for a 19-yard Greg Davis field goal after driving to the Dallas one-yard line. Tackle Reuben Davis recovered a fumble at the Dallas 19-yard line on the Cowboys' next play from scrimmage. Three plays later, quarterback Chris Chandler hit running back Larry Centers with a 17-yard touchdown pass. After Dallas converted a Cardinal fumble into another field goal, Phoenix countered with five quick points. After a punt was downed at the Dallas one-yard line, blitzing defensive back Chris Oldham forced Bernie Kosar to intentionally ground the ball in his own end zone for a safety. The Cards then drove the Pokes' ensuing punt 30 yards for a 47-yard Davis field goal.

•Series Notes

Dallas leads the series by a 40–22–1 margin and owns a seven-game winning streak, including sweeps in each of the last three seasons ... the Cards' margin of defeat in the last three games has been 18 combined points (16–10 in 1992, 17–10 and 20–15 last year) ... the Cards swept both 1989 contests for the first time since 1970 ... Dallas provided the opposition for the Cards' first regular-season home game in Arizona in 1988 with the Cowboys prevailing 17–14 ... at one stretch from 1967–86, Dallas won 27 of 36 games in the series, including undefeated streaks of six and seven games, and enjoyed one home stretch of 13–2 against the Cardinals ... the Cards are 9–22 all-time at Dallas and have won only five of the last 27 meetings in Texas.

December 15, 1991 • Denver 24, Cardinals 19 (A)

The Cardinals led eventual AFC West Division champion Denver 19–17 late in the game behind four Greg Davis field goals and a 45-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Chris Chandler to wide receiver Ernie Jones. The Cards were on the verge of the upset with less than six minutes to play when wide receiver Ricky Proehl raced 23 yards with a reverse handoff to the Denver 37-yard line. But a holding penalty nullified the play, leading to a punt three plays later that set the stage for Denver's 66-yard game-winning drive that quarterback John Elway capped with a four-yard end run with only 1:46 remaining. Chandler impressed in his starting debut, completing 15 of 32 passes for 194 yards. Rookie cornerback Aeneas Williams intercepted two Elway passes and made a touchdown-saving goal-line tackle. Davis posted his second four-field goal effort as a Cardinal. The fourth, a 38-yarder, gave the Cards a 19–17 lead with just 8:24 to play before Elway's heroics rallied Denver.

•Series Notes

The clubs have played just four times during the regular season with the Cardinals still searching for their first victory ... the first contest ended in a 17–17 tie in 1973, the second a 7–0 Bronco win in 1977, the third a 37–0 shutout by Denver in Sun Devil Stadium in 1989, and most recently the Broncos' 24–19 come-from-behind victory in 1991 ... in the preseason, the Cardinals are 4–6 versus the Broncos, including victories during each of the past three preseasons ... the Cards prevailed at Sun Devil Stadium by scores of 34–10 in 1991 and 34–9 last year, and handed Denver a 21–17 defeat in Mile High Stadium in 1992.

December 12, 1993 • Detroit 21, Cardinals 14 (H)

Phoenix suffered its eighth loss of the season by seven points or less and its second to the Lions. Detroit answered Cardinal touchdowns in the second and third quarters on its ensuing possessions to send a 14–14 deadlock into the fourth quarter. The Lions took the lead on a 43-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Erik Kramer to wide receiver Willie Green early in the fourth quarter. Phoenix responded with its second long drive of the day. Beginning at their own nine-yard line, the Cards drove to the Detroit one-yard line in 15 plays. But the Cardinals were turned away on three consecutive plays. The Lion defense pressured Card quarterback Steve Beuerlein throughout the afternoon, sacking him four times for minus 28 yards and making three interceptions. Phoenix running back Larry Centers set career highs with nine pass receptions for 77 yards. Defensively, end Michael Bankston recovered a Lion fumble that led to a Ronald Moore touchdown four plays later, sacked Kramer once, and added eight tackles (seven solos).

•Series Notes

Two of the NFL's oldest rivals, the teams first met in 1934 when Detroit prevailed 6–0 in Chicago ... the Lions lead the series 28–14–3, but prior to last year's two encounters, the clubs had met just three times since 1980 ... Detroit prevailed in both outings last year, 26–20 in the Silverdome and 21–14 in Arizona, while the Cards' last victory in the series was a 16–13 road decision in 1989 ... the series has been marked by streaks ... the Lions defeated the Cardinals nine consecutive times from 1935–39 and six straight times from 1942–45 ... the Cardinals produced a six-game winning streak from 1946–48 and won four of five encounters prior to the Lions' sweep last year.

November 20, 1988 • Houston 38, Cardinals 20 (A)

Not only were the Cardinals without the services of quarterback Neil Lomax, but free safety Lonnie Young suffered an elbow injury on the second play of the game and his replacement, Travis Curtis, followed him to the bench four plays later with an ankle sprain as the Cards dropped a 38–20 decision to the Oilers in the Astrodome. The Cardinals successfully limited the vaunted Houston ground game to just three yards per carry, but Oiler quarterback Warren Moon tossed three touchdown passes as Houston converted 11 of 18 third-down conversions. Cliff Stoudt, starting in place of Lomax, completed 19 of 29 pass attempts for 249 yards and three touchdowns while J.T. Smith caught 10 passes for 114 yards. The loss began a season-ending five-game losing skid to drop the Cardinals from playoff contention.

•Series Notes

The Cardinals and Oilers have played just five times since the NFL-AFL merger in 1970 ... the Cardinals won the first match between the clubs with a 44–0 shutout in St. Louis in 1970, then followed with two victories in the Astrodome—31–27 in 1974 and 24–17 in 1979 ... Houston has won the past two games in the series by counts of 20–10 in Busch Stadium in 1985 and a 38–20 decision in the Astrodome in 1988.

December 5, 1993 • Cardinals 38, L.A. Rams 10 (H)

The Cardinals struck early and often for a 38–10 victory in the Rams' first regular-season appearance in Arizona. Rookie running back Ronald Moore and wide receiver Gary Clark were the featured offensive performers. Moore's 115 rushing yards were highlighted by four touchdowns (1, 19, 1, and 1 yards), a Cardinal first since 1977. Clark posted eight receptions for 159 yards and a touchdown. The Cardinals scored their five touchdowns on alternate possessions beginning with their first drive following the opening kickoff, a nine-play, 78-yard march that ended with their first opening-drive touchdown of the season—Moore's first one-yard plunge. Following a Ram field goal, Phoenix tallied 31 unanswered points to take an insurmountable 38–3. The Cardinal defense continued to excel with a pass interception (safety Lorenzo Lynch), a blocked field-goal attempt (tackle Keith Rucker), and a quarterback sack and fumble recovery on the same play (end Michael Bankston).

•Series Notes

The Rams hold a 10–8–2 advantage in the series dating to 1948 when the two teams were in the NFL's Western Division ... last year's meeting ended a stretch of four consecutive Ram home games ... the Cardinals have won the last three contests by scores of 24–14 in 1991 and 20–14 in 1992 in Anaheim Stadium, and 38–10 last year in Arizona ... the Rams handed the Cards a 35–23 defeat in a first-round playoff game in 1975.

October 27, 1991 • Vikings 28, Cardinals 0 (H)

The Cardinals dropped their second one-sided loss to the Vikings in a three-week span with a 28–0 shutout at the hands of a Minnesota team that delivered a 34–7 win just two weeks earlier in the Metrodome. Offensive futility continued to haunt the Cardinals. While suffering their second shutout of the season, the Cards failed to score 10 points for the fifth time in nine outings. They also managed only 158 total yards (126 passing, 32 rushing) and seven first downs as the Vikings nearly doubled the Cardinals' time of possession (39:07–20:53). Played on a soggy Sun Devil Stadium field due to a heavy morning rain, the Cardinals continually lost the battle of field position, starting three possessions at their three, two, and four yard lines. Eight of the Cards' 13 possessions lasted three plays or less. Rich Camarillo continued his superb punting for Phoenix, averaging 46.5 yards on eight boots. Late in the game, quarterback Stan Gelbaugh saw his first action as a Cardinal in relief of starter Tom Tupa, Gelbaugh's first action since leading London to the inaugural championship of the World League of American Football.

•Series Notes

The Cardinals maintain a 7–5 advantage in the series ... two Viking victories in 1991 broke a string of four consecutive Cardinal wins ... in the most recent meetings between the teams, Minnesota outscored the Cardinals by a combined 62–7 in two 1991 meetings—34–7 in the Metrodome and 28–0 in Sun Devil Stadium ... the Vikings defeated the Cards 30–14 in Minnesota in the first round of 1974 playoff action ... the Cards' 56 points in a 56–14 drubbing of the Vikings at Metropolitan Stadium in 1963 still stands as the most points allowed by a Viking opponent and is the fourth highest single-game total in Cardinal history.

The New York Giants and their NFL-best 11–3 record were held without a touchdown at Sun Devil Stadium for the second consecutive year to complete the Cardinals' first three-victory December in 10 years. The Phoenix defense was dominant, particularly in the second half, when New York failed to cross midfield on offense, gained only 69 total net yards, and possessed the ball for just 11:17. For the day, New York's league-leading rushing attack mustered only 78 yards. Offensively, rookie running back Ronald Moore stole the show, gaining 135 yards on 23 carries and two touchdowns. The Phoenix defense turned the game's momentum in the first half by stopping New York drives at the Cardinals' two and five yard lines, forcing the Giants to settle for two David Treadwell field goals. The Cardinals, on the other hand, saved their best for last, scoring the first three times they had the ball and gaining 248 of their 333 total net yards in the second half.

•Series Notes

One of the NFL's ancient rivalries and the lengthiest for the Cardinals ... the Giants hold an 18–8–1 advantage in the series since 1980 and 66–35–2 overall dating to 1926 ... the Cardinals snapped the Giants' eight-game series winning streak in 1992 with a 19–0 shutout in Sun Devil Stadium in the second contest of the season between the clubs ... in each of the past two seasons, the home team has been victorious in the matches ... the Giants provided the opposition for the final game of the 1974 season when the Cardinals roared back from a 14–0 halftime deficit for a 26–14 win and their first division crown since 1948 ... the Giants also were the Cardinals' foe in the club's final game in St. Louis, a 27–24 Cardinal victory on Dec. 13, 1987.

November 7, 1993 • Cardinals 16, Philadelphia 3 (H)

The Cardinals rode their best rushing effort in 12 years to their first home-field victory over Philadelphia since moving to Arizona. The Cards' 243-yard rushing total, their best since 258yards versus Buffalo on Nov. 15, 1981, provided Phoenix a lopsided 38:59–21:01 time-of-possession advantage. Rookie running back Ronald Moore led the ground attack with 160 yards on 36 carries. Running back Larry Centers contributed 105 total yards (59 rushing, 46 receiving). Centers' 33-yard second-quarter run set the table for Greg Davis' third and final field goal. The methodical offensive effort overshadowed a sturdy Phoenix defense that limited the Eagles to three points, their lowest total against the Cardinals since 1974, held Philadelphia to 65 yards rushing and 140 yards passing (205 total net yards), notched three sacks, and intercepted a pass. Cornerback Aeneas Williams returned the pickoff 41 yards, leading to field position that produced the game's only touchdown, a 10-yard pass from quarterback Chris Chandler to wide receiver Gary Clark. Phoenix tallied its 16 points by scoring on its first four possessions—field goal, field goal, touchdown, and field goal.

•Series Notes

The teams are deadlocked at 45–45–5 in the series dating to 1935 ... the Cardinals forged a split with Philadelphia three of the last four years ... the Eagles swept both encounters in 1992 ... the teams figured in consecutive NFL championship games in the 1940s ... the Chicago Cardinals edged the Eagles 28–21 in frozen Comiskey Park on Dec. 28, 1947 for the NFL title ... the Eagles avenged that loss with a 7–0 victory in Shibe Park on Dec. 16 to earn the crown in 1948.

October 9, 1988 • Cardinals 31, Pittsburgh 14 (H)

The Cardinals cruised to their fourth consecutive victory, their best start since 1976, with a 31–14 trouncing of the winless Steelers. The triumph improved their record to 4–2 and handed the Cards a share of first place in the NFC East Division. The Cardinal defense produced a splendid effort, harnessing Pittsburgh to just 10 first downs and 66 yards total offense in the second half while limiting the Steelers to only two third-down conversions in 12 attempts. The Cards' defense allowed only 203 yards total offense, its best effort in 33 games when it yielded 144 yards in a 13–6 loss to the N.Y. Giants on Oct. 5, 1986. Quarterback Neil Lomax threaded 17 of 26 passes (65 percent) for 291 yards, including four for 119 yards to Roy Green, while defensive end Freddie Joe Nunn notched a pair of quarterback sacks, giving him six in six contests.

•Series Notes

The Steelers lead the series dating to 1933 by a margin of 30–24–3 ... since 1972, the two teams have met just four times ... Pittsburgh won the first three contests by scores of 25–19 in 1972, 24–21 in 1979, and 23–10 in 1985 ... the Cardinals broke the streak with a 31–14 victory at Sun Devil Stadium in 1988 ... from 1952-69, the teams met twice per season as members of the same conference (American-1952, Eastern-1954 through 1966, Century Division-1967 through 1969) until the NFL-AFL merger in 1970 when Pittsburgh was transferred to the American Conference.

October 24, 1993 • San Francisco 28, Cardinals 14 (A)

Phoenix trailed 28–0 before denting the scoreboard with a 65-yard Steve Beuerlein-to-Anthony Edwards touchdown pass in the fourth quarter. Three 49er interceptions of Beuerlein passes proved critical. Six plays after San Francisco took a 7–0 lead on a 91-yard drive, an interception gave the 49ers the ball at midfield. The first of two Jerry Rice touchdown receptions followed five plays later. Just before halftime, the Cards drove the ball to the 49ers' 10-yard line, but a Beuerlein pass was pilfered at the goal line. On the first Phoenix possession of the second half, the Cards drove to the San Francisco 33 yard line before a tipped Beuerlein pass was smothered by ex-Cardinal safety Tim McDonald. A scoreless third quarter left the Cardinals within shouting distance at 14–0, but Rice's second scoring grab padded the lead to 21–0 early in the fourth quarter. Ricky Watters added the final touchdown on a 19-yard run. Ricky Proehl ended the day's scoring with a touchdown reception for the fifth consecutive game to equal the Cardinal record.

•Series

The Cardinals and 49ers have staged an even, if abbreviated, series that lists only 19 all-time meetings since 1951 ... the Cards evened the series at 9–9 with a 24–14 victory in Sun Devil Stadium in 1992, ... the 49ers regained the series lead with a 28–14 victory at Candlestick Park last year ... the Cardinals' 24–23 come-from-behind shocker over the defending Super Bowl champions in 1988 after trailing 23–0 broke a string of five consecutive 49er wins ... the Cardinals are 4–4 at home against the 49ers and 2–0 in Arizona.

A smothering defensive effort (three recovered fumbles, one pass interception, five quarterback sacks), which held Washington to 246 total yards, and a 36-point offensive explosion combined to post the Cardinals' first two-game single-season sweep of the Redskins since 1974. Defensive tackle Eric Swann mauled the Redskins' offense, amassing 12 combined tackles (eight solos), causing a fumble and recovering it, contributing two sacks (–15 yards), downing running back Reggie Brooks in the end zone for a safety, and hurrying Washington quarterback Mark Rypien twice. Linebackers Freddie Joe Nunn and Ken Harvey shared Swann's spotlight with 1.5 sacks apiece. Nunn added two forced fumbles; Harvey also forced a fumble and notched a tackle for loss. Offensively, wide receiver Ricky Proehl logged his fourth consecutive game with a touchdown pass (42 yards), a Cardinal first since 1986. Running back Garrison Hearst scored his first NFL touchdown (1 yard) but also suffered a season-ending knee injury.

•Series Notes
The Redskins have won 30 of the last 38 games and hold a 58–34–1 all-time advantage in the series dating to 1937 ... the Cardinals swept both games against the Redskins last year, a first since 1974 ... the Cards' victory in the first 1993 meeting, a 17–10 triumph, was the Cardinals' first success at R.F.K. Stadium since 1978 following 14 consecutive losses ... the Cardinals' first contest against Washington in 1988, a 30–21 win September 25, was their first home-field success in Arizona ... that victory also snapped a seven-game Redskin series winning streak ... Washington won eight of the next nine encounters until last year's pair of Cardinal victories.

SUN DEVIL STADIUM

Sun Devil Stadium, home to Arizona State University football since 1958 and the Fiesta Bowl since 1971, added the National Football League to its historic past in 1988 when the Cardinals also took residence in one of the nation's finest football facilities.

Sun Devil Stadium sits dramatically between two buttes in Tempe, Arizona on the campus of Arizona State University southeast of Phoenix.

Literally carved from the desert, Sun Devil Stadium sits in a spectacular setting between two mountain buttes in Tempe, Arizona southeast of Phoenix.

Originally erected in 1958, Sun Devil Stadium has been expanded four times (1976, '77, '88, and '89). Capacity for NFL football in 1993 will be 73,377. Improvements costing over $21 million the past six years have made the facility a football showcase.

A $1.67 million field renovation (lowering and widening), completed in June of 1992, was the most recent major upgrade. Besides providing significantly more sideline space, the project also changed the look of the stadium by removing the characteristic moats in favor of field-level walkways. Ninety thousand square feet of Tifway 419 sod, the same grass that adorns the Cardinals' training facility, covers a unique layering support system that includes hot-water tubes designed to fool Mother Nature (delay dormancy) and promote growth during cooler months. Although approximately 1,300 seats were lost during the renovation, the project eliminated sight-line problems that had caused obstructed views from lower-row seats.

The bowl (south) end was connected four years ago by Arizona State's dramatic six-story Intercollegiate Athletic Complex building and an extension of loge-level seats. A state-of-the-art video replay scoreboard and locker rooms in the north end also were added. The color video replay system, situated in the southwest corner, offers fans instant replays of game action. A complementary matrix board for messages and statistical information sits in the southeast corner.

In 1989, $11.5 million was spent to construct a three-story, 60,000 square-foot building atop the upper deck on the west side containing two 30-suite levels and topped by a modern press box and eight additional private suites. Served by four industrial-sized elevators—one for the media and three for the public—the addition offers working space for 200 sportswriters, broadcast booths, booth space for statistical crews, coaches, public address personnel, security, scoreboard operations, and replay officials, and a rooftop camera deck in addition to suite seating for over 900 fans.

Sun Devil Stadium proved a most hospitable host to the Cardinals in the team's inaugural season in Arizona in 1988 when seven of the Cards' eight regular-season home games broke the club's previous single-game attendance record. The season total of 472,937 fans also easily eclipsed the Cardinal franchise's single-season home attendance mark.

The largest crowd in Cardinal history—73,025—witnessed the Cards' September 19, 1993 battle against the eventual Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys at Sun Devil Stadium.

TRAINING FACILITY

Rising from a former cotton field in south Tempe is the Cardinals' training facility and corporate headquarters.

Covering 14.7 acres of land, the Cardinals' home since September of 1990 is a 94,000 square-foot state-of-the-art facility sporting desert building materials, and three and one-half acres of Southwestern (Sonoran) desert landscaping that leaves no doubt where the team proudly calls home.

The Cardinals' award-winning training facility in south Tempe covers 14.7 acres and offers 94,000 square feet of space and three practice fields.

Possessing many characteristics that distinguish it as both a football facility and an Arizona landmark, the showcase complex already has won numerous architectural and landscape awards.

It incorporates local materials such as copper, desert brick, and clay tile, complemented by desert landscaping which integrate into the natural surroundings.

Environmentally sensitive, it utilizes passive solar energy to light offices and corridors while employing masonry and shadow to eliminate heat.

The interior joins many important concepts. Specificity of design is reflected in the workout areas on the first level where a number of planned activities can occur simultaneously. Facilities are situated along a logical traffic pattern to accommodate a progressive flow of activities.

The first floor consists of player facilities that include the training area, an auditorium, locker room, hydrotherapy (15-player in-floor sauna and cold plunge) and spa rooms, indoor/outdoor weight-training room, offensive and defensive meeting rooms, and film/video-tape rooms. They open to three playing fields (one lighted) on nearly five acres of land.

The second floor comprises the administration and operations areas that include the coaching staff's offices. On the second and third floors, natural lighting and breezeways combines with advanced communications technology to create the most flexible office space possible. The integration of current electronic and construction technologies also makes the facility more economical to operate and easier to maintain.

The main building is flanked by a two-story attached building that includes a public area, the ticket office, and the public relations department that houses a media center featuring custom-designed work carrels, private interview rooms, televisions, and a reference library. Another two-story building housing two handball courts completes the complex.

Tifway 419 sod, the same hybrid used for golf course putting greens, covers seven and one-half acres on the east side of the building and includes three laser-leveled side-by-side practice fields. Underneath lies a complex drainage system constructed with drainage tiles that accommodate as much as three inches of rain water that can be drained from all three fields, making the fields playable within three hours.

Furthermore, many details are invisible to the naked eye. The fields and team building are set at the same angle as Sun Devil Stadium, the Cards' home field at Arizona State University, allowing simulation of the position of the sun under game conditions.
